FREDERICTON (CP) — The Liberals will win from 140 to 170 seats June 18, leader Lester Pearson said Monday.

But he said all hands have to buckle down to work even harder to ensure that margin of victory.

FINAL WEEK

He spoke to about 75 persons here in a quick airport visit en route to Moncton for a night rally. He had arrived at Saint John, N.B., from Quebec to start the last week's campaigning.

The largest crowd of the day was about 800 in Saint John where Mr. Pearson dwelt heavily on Atlantic area issues in his talk from the top of a bandstand.

Mr. Pearson said he believes a Liberal government could do better in curbing unemployment which ran at an average 11.2 per cent for the Atlantic provinces during the last five years.

Her Shot In Dark Killed Son

SARONNO, Italy (AP) — Widow Domenica Zandini took a rifle and hid behind the chicken pen last night to try to catch thieves who suspected of stealing her poultry.

A little after midnight she was startled to see a figure appear before her in the darkness. She fired and killed her eldest son, Silvano, 15, who had come to take a turn on watch so his mother could rest.

Laos Coalition

Happy Princes End Stalemate

KHANG KHAY (AP) — The three feuding princes of Laos Monday finally put together a coalition cabinet intended to bring peace and neutrality to the little jungle kingdom. All looked pleased at the end of six months of wrangling over the cabinet's makeup.

No Charges Against Parents

TORONTO (CP) — The Children's Aid Society announced yesterday no charges will be brought against parents whose children were found at a disreputable nursery in downtown Toronto.

Police and health officials raided the nursery Thursday after reports that a "baby farm" was being operated there. They found 16 children loaded in a car outside, and said seven more were driven away.

The officials said charges might still be laid against others involved in the unlicensed nursery.

Wily Woofer Defeats Escape-Proof Prison

The canine Houdini first escaped from the shelter Friday night, and fled for the eighth time back to the home of his despairing owner, Mrs. John MacIntyre. Husky lifted a heavy pen gate with his head and used his teeth to open a door and a window.

Saturday, he escaped again a few hours after the shelter had recovered him from Mrs. MacIntyre's home. His distraught owner found him waiting for her on the church lawn Sunday and, sagging under this last display of the dog's affection, agreed to keep him.

Husky built up a reputation for hijinks after Mrs. MacIntyre decided to give him away because she could not keep the rebel off her heels. With fierce determination to follow his mistress, Husky opened or broke windows, soaped chains and slipped collars.

She gave him away twice—once to a local family and once to a farm family near Fergus, more than 40 miles away. But the wily woofer returned six times from the first home and again from Fergus.

His last escape, from the Humane Society shelter, was accomplished by climbing an eight-foot fence topped by another two feet of guard wire.

Weird, Wild Motorcade For John D

MONTREAL (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker was paraded through the streets of Montreal Monday in a weird and wild motorcade that ended up in a public picnic of more than 5,000 youngsters. (See also Page 5.)

The 10-mile trip took him through six ridings on the island, skirting several others, roused public interest in his night election rally—and also tied up traffic.

OLD DISTRICT

The motorcade wound through the old tenement district of the metropolis, through narrow streets, around corners, sometimes twisting so much that the tail seemed to be passing the head.

Mr. Diefenbaker went from a Roman Catholic home for the elderly to a Jewish school for the young, then to a Ukrainian hall for a multiracial reception and finally to the children's picnic at abandoned Delormier baseball park.

Sometimes with, sometimes without police escort, the motorcade made its own noise—a steady bellow of horns.

It was an ethnic day—a campaign salute to the multitude of nationalities that make up Canada.

Offensive Launched On Terror

B.C. government officials yesterday launched a counter-offensive aimed at stopping further "Sons of Freedom" terrorism in the strife-torn Kootenays.

Attorney-General Bonner renewed his request to Defence Minister Harkness for the stationing of troops in the area for "psychological" reasons.

POLICE REINFORCED
He ordered an undisclosed number of RCMP reinforcements to the Interior B.C. region rocked by a series of house burnings and nude parades.

And Welfare Minister Black, on the scene, said Doukhobors not on social assistance, who burned their homes during the weekend, can't expect to receive it if they apply.

He also said Freedomites

Scores On Trial

GRAND FORKS, B.C. (CP) — Thirteen Sons of Freedom Doukhobor women, charged with arson in connection with the burning of the home of Orthodox Doukhobor leader John Verigin, were committed to trial at a preliminary hearing Monday.

The women were arrested after the home of the Verigins was set aflame in this West Kootenay community Sunday.

ENTERED HOME
Court was told the women entered the Verigin home Sunday while baby-sitter Louise Kinikin was caring for the Verigin children. The rest of the family was attending a prayer meeting.

Mrs. Verigin returned home shortly after the flames broke out and had to push her way past 13 nude women to telephone for help.

GRANTED STAY
In New Westminster the Sons' spiritual leader Stefan Sorokin was granted a stay of proceedings Monday as 70 of his fraternal council and others appeared for preliminary hearings on charges of conspiring to intimidate the governments of Canada and British Columbia.

The hearing, expected to last six weeks or longer, will likely have few equals in complexity in Canadian legal history.

Luther's Ring Missing

NANKATO, Minn. (AP) — A silver German ring believed by its owners to be Martin Luther's wedding ring and a framed picture was stolen from St. Mark's Lutheran Church here sometime Sunday night.

The ring was taken from a cabinet in the office of the church's pastor, Rev. Martin Birkholz, by thieves who also opened a safe in the church.

Birkholz said the ring was given to the church about four years ago by Mrs. Russell Fowler, an elderly woman of German descent who said it had been in the family for generations.

Saanich Hall Row

Merger Vote Protest Fails

By IAN STREET

Saanich council decided to hold a December vote on a proposal to build a new municipal hall at Swan Lake—overriding some strong objections that this would really be another vote on amalgamation.

Council also defeated a proposal by Reeve Stanley Murphy that it join immediately with Victoria in a study of amalgamation. The vote was 4-3.

SPIRITED DEBATE

The municipal hall move, recommended by the finance committee, was approved by a 4-3 vote after a spirited debate which grew heated as charges and counter-charges were hurled on the subject of amalgamation.

Reeve Stanley Murphy said the vote would be "completely premature" and he was supported by Coun. Robert Chard and Coun. Hugh Curtis.

'PEOPLE MISLED'

Finance chairman, Coun. Joseph Casey, supporting the committee's recommendation, argued the people were being misled when $50,000 was put in the current budget towards the cost of a new hall.

"If amalgamation comes... this money will all be down the drain," said Coun. Casey. "We are being false when we take this $50,000 and remain in the present ramshackle building."

'VERY HAPPY'

Reeve Murphy asked: "Would this vote in December not be, in effect, asking the people to decide whether or not they are for or against amalgamation?"

"I would think you'd be very happy to have them decide that," retorted Coun. Casey. "But you can take it any way you like."

The finance chairman was supported by the three other members of council.

'THIS HOVEL'

Coun. Robert Ostler charged that opposition to the move came from members of council who "would be content to see us live in this hovel for as long as it takes to get amalgamation."

"We shouldn't hold up progress just because this question of amalgamation is at the back of the mind of voters," Coun. Gregory Cook said.

'SINGLE GROUND'

Fact that the present hall was "obviously inadequate" was beside the point, said Coun. Chard. He was content to rest his argument on a single ground—that the municipality wasn't yet in a position to know the route of the new Pat Bay Highway.

"If that argument was valid we'd have to move the new firehall and the proposed health and welfare building on Vernon Road," said Coun. Casey.

91-Year-Old Gypped, Chimney Crook Jailed

VANCOUVER (CP)—Walter George Daykin, 91, convicted of bilking a 91-year-old woman of $300 in a chimney-repair racket, was sentenced Monday to a year in jail. Mrs. Mabel Hamilton was charged $300 for work not done and Daykin was convicted of conspiring to defraud her.

Key Role Taken From U.S. Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shaking up a lagging military communications satellite program, the defence department Monday stripped the United States Army of the main development role and gave it to the air force.

The Army, which has been working on the Advent program for nearly two years, was left only the responsibility for the system's ground equipment while the air force develops the spacecraft.

BY 1964

A defence department spokesman said the action is expected to result in the beginnings of an operational system by 1964, rather than 1966. The military system would function separately from the proposed worldwide civilian satellite communications system.

COMPELLING FACT

The spokesman refrained from criticizing the work of the Army, which has spent about $170,000,000 on the project so far. Another $100,000,000 has been sought for the coming year.

The compelling fact in the decision, he said, is that the 57,000-man buildup is only one of the steps the United States is taking to meet the Communists in jungle and back-alley wars.

Anti-Red Force For U.S.

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Gen. Maxwell Taylor said yesterday the U.S. plans to train a 37,000-man force of counter-guerrilla specialists in the coming year to check the Communist wave of "wars of liberation."

'GOVERNMENT STUDENTS'
The retired army chief of staff, President Kennedy's top adviser on military matters, identified the specialists as "government students" whose training will include "significant blocks of instruction on counter-insurgency."

ONLY ONE STEP
Speaking at commencement exercises at the University of Pittsburgh, Taylor said the 57,000-man buildup is only one of the steps the United States is taking to meet the Communists in jungle and back-alley wars.

Outsider Leads In Peruvian Poll

LIMA (Reuters) — Presidential outsider Fernando Belaunde Terry Monday night moved into the lead with about half of the 1,800,000 votes counted from Sunday's Peruvian national elections.

Latest returns gave Belaunde 307,328 votes with his main rivals, Gen. Manuel Odría and Raul Haya de la Torre, 278,000 and 232,246 votes respectively.

TRICKY SITUATION

Unless one of the candidates gets more than a third of the votes, the election will be thrown into congress—a tricky situation which Peruvians fear might lead to a political crisis. Sunday's election—from which the armed forces were barred—was widely praised Monday as the most peaceful and democratic in the country's history.

Reds Gain In Italy

ROME (AP) — Italy's dominant Christian Democrats lost some strength in local elections based on incomplete returns Monday.

As the Christian Democrats' strength slipped, their Democratic Socialist and republican coalition partners gained.

Overall, the Communists appeared to be gaining slightly over their 1960 local election performance.

Squatter Forgot

Police found the other $7,000 Saturday and posted guards to prevent amateur treasure hunters from moving in.

Yesterday Mrs. Burke, wearing a tattered coat held together by safety pins, asked authorities to surrender the money. The authorities withheld judgment.

Bills Bulldozed

Money, Money Everywhere

WEST ALLIS, Wis. (UPI) — Mrs. Thomas Burke, who said she made all that money raising rabbits, yesterday laid claim to $7,000 found over the weekend at an expressway construction site.

What's more, she said there was another $8,000 or $9,000 still buried in the same area.

years until they were forcibly evicted last year to make way for the expressway. They raised rabbits and a few chickens, sold them and carefully hid their profits in glass jars buried on the property.

When notified they would be evicted, Mrs. Burke and her two sons—looked for the hiding places but couldn't find them, she said. The first $700 was found Friday

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Flésch

When you were at school, you had to read your way through the poems printed in your anthology; chances are most of them left you utterly cold.

But if you're like most people, you never bothered to go back and check whether you were just too young to understand those poems, or reading it, it's hard to cling whether it's possible that the to the notion that Poe, Wordsworth, great poets of English literature actually wrote bad verse.

Now there's a new paper, readers really was as good as back, The Stuffed Owl (Cap the English teacher told you.

Some Samples

Here are some samples:
George Crabbe:
Something one day occurred about a bill
That was not drawn with true mercantile skill.
And I was asked and authorized to go
To seek the firm of Clutterbuck and Co.
Alexander Smith:
My heart is in the grave with her—
The family went abroad.
Leigh Hunt:
The two divinest things that man has got,

A lovely woman in a rural spot.
Not without virtues was the prince. Who is?
Sir Walter Scott:
He wiped his iron eye and brow.
William Wordsworth:
The beetle loves his unpretending track.
The snail the house it carries on his back;
The far-fetched worm with pleasure would give him,
The bed we give him, though of softest down.

Murmer Softly

More Wordsworth:
This piteous news so much
It shocked her,
She quite forgot to send the doctor.
That is work of waste and ruin;
Consider, Charles, what you are doing.
Alfred Lord Tennyson:
So passed the strong heroic soul away.

And when they buried him,
The little port
Had seldom seen a costlier funeral.
Robert Browning:
Iks care the crop-full bird?
Frets doubt the maw-crammed beast?
Elizabeth Barrett Browning:
Our Euripides, the human,
With his droppings of warm tears.
Will you softly
Murmur softly?

who were receiving assistance will have their records checked "with a fine tooth comb."

Mr. Bonner sent this telegram to Mr. Harkness:

"Re Sons of Freedom, West Kootenays, respectfully request your reconsideration my earlier submission regarding psychological desirability to exercise self-sufficient company infantry vicinity Nelson Trail. Aid to civil power not the immediate question. Presence of military as suggested will prevent the question arising."

REQUEST REJECTED

Mr. Harkness turned down Mr. Bonner's request when it was first made some months ago after a series of Sons of Freedom bombings in the Kootenays.

He said last night: "Mr. Bonner knows all he has to do is sign the necessary requisition under the National Defence Act and submit it to the area military commander."

'BONNER KNOWS'

And Justice Minister Fulton said in Kamloops:

"Mr. Bonner knows... that if such a request is made, it will be dealt with immediately."

He said "the law is clear, and the federal government does not have the power to supply troops in a situation such as this unless the request is made in accordance with the terms of the National Defence Act."

FORMAL REQUEST

Mr. Fulton said parliament has "carefully restricted" the authority of the federal government to use troops in the case of civil disturbances.

"They can only be used if formally requested by the province to intervene in aid of the civil power."

B.C. feels the very presence of the army troops in the area will discourage further outbreaks of violence. Ostensibly they would be there for training.

Social assistance payments range from $103.80 for a mother and child to $190.20 for a mother with five children.

"This stupidity has to stop," Mr. Black said. "We cannot ask the taxpayers to pay this kind of bill any longer."

NO SHELTER

From 150 to 175 children have been left without proper shelter after three days of fierce and systematic incandescence. The mothers have admitted telling their children burning and nudism are quite proper.

The children have moved in with neighbors in some cases, while others are sleeping in sheds, root houses and tents.

'Truants' Return

NELSON (CP) — Sons of Freedom Doukhobor children, kept away from school in large number Friday after many of their parents burned their homes, were back in school Monday.

Truant officers had warned the Sons there would be a roundup if the children failed to turn up today.

Skindiver Dies Despite Efforts

VANCOUVER (CP) — An hour of artificial respiration failed to revive skindiver Blaine Brooke, 14, Sunday when he was found floating lifelessly in the water at Salsbery Bay, 23 miles south of Powell River.

Crew members on a ferry boat docking at the bay spotted the youth, pulled him from the water and applied artificial respiration for an hour before he was pronounced dead.

'Thrill' Killings Linked to Four

LOS ANGELES — Police held four men on charges of robbery and linked them with several "thrill" killings during crime spree up and down the west coast.

"They are the most cold blooded group I've ever run across," said Lt. George Woolley of the homicide division.

Booked on robbery charges were Avery Matthews, 18, Jack Blumie, 19, Ronald Polk, 23, and William Gregg, 22.

Kidnap and murder charges will be filed against them soon, said Woolley.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Tony Campisano, 11, is a double hero to his mother. The boy pushed Mrs. Joan Campisano off a boat into the Rough River here to douse flames which enveloped her, then he dived into the water to save her from drowning.

NEW YORK — Police said they questioned but took no action against a man who told a woman acquaintance that he was angry enough to kill President Kennedy.

COLOMBO — Execution of Buddhist monk Taldawa Somarama, who killed Prime Minister Bandaranaike of Ceylon in 1959, has been delayed until July.

TORONTO — Dr. Norman Akcock, founder of the Canadian Peace Research Institute, says the public has contributed $215,000 towards an objective of $300,000.

VANCOUVER — The B.C. Court of Appeal has dismissed the appeal of former Vancouver lawyer John B. Kennedy against his police court conviction on a theft charge last February.

HOLLYWOOD — Polly Adler, 62, who told of a 25-year career as a call house madame in her book A House is not a Home, died of cancer.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. — Mrs. Charles Hansen beat odds of 15,000 to one and gave birth to her third set of twins. The others are aged 12 and 11.

PARIS — Yves Klein, whose "action painting" technique of smearing nude models and rolling them on canvas outraged many a critic, died at 34.

Strengthen Friendship —And Please the U.S.

Speed Derailed Train Brakes Didn't Fail

School Bus Collision Kills 41

MISSOULA, Mont. (UPI) — Northern Pacific Railroad president Robert MacFarlane hinted Monday that human error may have been responsible for Sunday's derailment of NP's North Coast Limited passenger train 16 miles north of here.

MacFarlane said a preliminary investigation had failed to turn up any evidence that a brake failure caused the train carrying 338 persons to lurch from its tracks at more than twice the recommended speed.

Earlier an NP spokesman said either human or brake failure could have caused the high speed which resulted in the derailment.

Mr. MacFarlane confirmed speed caused the mishap which killed a child and injured more than 200 other persons.

Mr. MacFarlane said damage may approach $750,000.

W. W. Kennedy and his wife, Kathleen, of Vancouver, were admitted to hospital.

Sunday, two of the olive-green passenger cars shot 100 feet down the grade, coming to rest in a ditch along a highway.

A car's nose buried deep in the ditch scooping up mud and burying Terese Ann Doms, 2, of Eklaka, Mont. Frantically a woman — possibly the child's mother dug out the body with her hands.

Another child, also buried in mud, was rescued alive.

Worth 10 of Old Hwan

New Won in Korea

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — The Republic of Korea's ruling military junta followed up a surprise weekend currency revaluation with a stern warning that violators of economic regulations would be "punished without mercy."

The warning was made last night by junta-chairman and Acting President Gen. Park Chung Hee.

With Park's warning came a statement from the U.S. embassy denying Ambassador Samuel Berger had praised the currency reform. Junta officials had quoted the ambassador as saying the reform was a necessary and excellent measure.

The currency reform instituted a new currency called "Won" in place of the old "Hwan." One of the new Won is worth 10 of the old Hwan. The old Hwan was pegged at 1,300 to the U.S. dollar at the time of the revaluation. Thus, the rate for the new Won is 130 to one dollar.

Prime Minister Song Yo Chan said the government "fears depression rather than inflation."

Trade Chiefs Consulted By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy talked for an hour Monday night with a group of business leaders headed by Roger Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp.

The announced topic was the balance - of - payments problem and the outflow of U.S. gold.

But the aim was wider than this. In a briefing after the White House session, press secretary Pierre Salinger said:

"The president feels that this kind of co-operation is most important and is the kind of co-operation that can be most helpful between business and the government."

Pleasure boats in Sweden number about 400,000, with more than 30,000 in Stockholm alone.

Murder Suspect Still at Large

NEW YORK (AP) — Police reported Monday no traces of Dr. Harvey Lothringer, wanted for questioning in connection with the death of a college co-ed whose dismembered body was found in his sewer drain.

Lothringer is being sought, along with a Cuban girl friend, Theresa Carillo, in Quebec where he has a hunting lodge; in Cuba where Miss Carillo was born; in Florida where Miss Carillo is known to have many friends; in Las Vegas, Nev., where the couple vacationed last year; in Venezuela where the physician vacationed two years ago, and in Mexico, where Lothringer has a sister.

DETROIT (UPI) — The auto industry last night junked its five-year-old joint resolution not to use speed, horsepower and racing as a means of selling cars.

Ford announced withdrawal from the resolution on grounds it has been broken so often it has no more meaning. Then Chrysler said it considers the resolution inoperative.

American Motors said it "will adhere to the resolution."

UN Postpones Debate

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — At Britain's request, the United Nations General Assembly Monday postponed for 24 hours decision on whether to debate Southern Rhodesia.

The British delegation announced that its government requested the delay because it has not had time to study fully proceedings in the assembly's 21-nation steering committee.

Fanatical Rampage

COPING WITH the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors in a democratic country seems almost a hopeless task. And the latest rampage of arson among the Doukhobor settlements dotted about the interior of the province illustrates this anew.

From the normal standpoint of civilized society these people are mad. Rational beings do not set fire to their own homes, strip naked and throw their clothes into the flames. Yet that was the scene over the weekend as this implacably dissident sect burned dozens of houses in a gesture of defiance as weird as can be imagined.

Obviously they need psychiatric treatment, although this would be as difficult to invoke as the many other steps which have been tried to bring these lawless Sons into some ordered manner of living. They defy the law—high, wide and handsome—and are swept up in a religious fanaticism which passes ordinary understanding.

It is no wonder that officialdom is at its wit's end in trying to deal with them.

One can understand Premier Bennett's frustration but it is futile and late in the day to say it is all the federal government's fault for letting the Doukhobors into the country. That fault was committed sixty years ago when immigrants were needed and in a humane spirit a haven was offered to a group of people suffering persecution in Russia. Nothing like their subsequent behavior in western Canada could have been imagined.

It certainly is a pity they ever were admitted, and their example should be a warning against any future bloc immigration, but crying over spilt milk half a century later doesn't help a bit.

The law must be upheld and concessions to the Sons of Freedom is no solution. These have been tried times without number over half a century without avail. Education seems the only final cure although this is admittedly a slow process. Perhaps, however, more attention might be given to reorientation from within. The large majority of Doukhobors are peaceful and law-abiding and as such should play a greater part in persuading their fanatical brethren to more rational behavior.

They have a responsibility in fact to assume the chief role in weaning the Sons away from the fanaticism that expresses itself in terrorism that casts a blot on the whole Doukhobor population. And better than anyone else they should know how best to deal with them.

A Shifting Platform

A CHEERING aspect of the fast approach of election day is that it leaves little time for further confusing shifts in the Liberal platform. The promises made in the next few days can be taken as final—if only the party's candidates can get together on them, which has not been the case in all instances so far.

The least that can be said of the New Democrats and the Conservatives is that they have set their courses and followed them in the campaign, for better or for worse, without swinging off in new directions to suit the breeze. Not so the Liberals.

A case in point relates to unemployment. At the beginning of the campaign Mr. Pearson's party promised, by strong implication if not directly, "full" employment.

"Good relations between labor and management rest on four pillars: Full employment, economic growth, social security, free collective bargaining," a party pamphlet said. "The Liberal party is the party that pioneered full employment policies and made them work."

And again: "The main Liberal policy for unemployment is to cure it."

But then the change. A recent advertisement proclaims the Liberal intention to bring the level of unemployment quickly back to "the low level which has (sic) been achieved in the traditional Liberal 'good times' of 1956," although this "may take a little time."

And in Vancouver, provincial Liberal leader Ray Perrault decries the New Democrats' promise of full employment as empty and dishonest.

We agree. But how responsible is a party that appeals to the voters from a shifting platform?

Forest Fires

MOANS THERE have been plenty over the poor spring the province has enjoyed—if that's the correct word—this year. The comparatively raw, cold and uneven weather hasn't found much favor and everyone is looking forward hopefully to prolonged spells of sunny weather.

Only in this way will B.C. maintain its reputation as a nice place to vacation in. So at least the tourist trade is bound to think.

Yet there are compensations, and certainly one of them is of importance. Lack of an early hot period has kept the forest fire situation in hand, and it is no surprise to hear that forest service officials for one are quite happy with the weather. The fire total and consequent fire-fighting costs are away down from last year, and prospects are good for the near future.

That is excellent news, even though the picture could change rapidly if a hot summer bursts suddenly into focus. B.C. is rich in its forest lands and the envy of other provinces lacking this valuable source of revenue, but the corollary is the annual hazard that never fails to fall upon the timber stands in greater or lesser degree. Sometimes the number of fires invites wonder that any trees will be left. That they are and in volume merely emphasizes the immensity of the forest areas, while at the same time indicating the efforts needed each year to keep the fire damage within bounds.

The fire-fighting service performs wonders in combatting forest fires with the co-operation of the many workers drawn into the battle, for battle it is. Citizens at large can always join in. Their role is to help prevent fires starting through human carelessness in the woods. The natural hazards of lightning and combustion are always there in profusion and these alone are sufficient to contemplate with anxiety. The greatest care should be exercised by campers and others in the woods to see that campfire ashes and discarded cigarettes do not add to the toll of heavy forest losses.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes, and ships, and scaling wex..."

By TOM TAYLOR

TOMORROW evening a royal visitor will arrive in town on a royal mission that should be a welcome relief from the now wearying election campaign.

The Princess Royal will perform various courtesies during her four-day stay here but she comes primarily to see her own regiment, the Canadian Scottish, of which she is colonel-in-chief, and to present it with new colors.

This should be a gala affair of the centennial year, rivaling in spectacle the Trooping of the Color by the Princess Patricia's before the Queen three years ago. The setting will be the same, lovely Beacon Hill Park, next Saturday afternoon.

May the sun remember to shine on this notable occasion.

For the Canadian Scottish, naturally, it will be a day of days, to be talked about for years and inscribed indelibly in the annals of the regiment. One looks forward to seeing them on parade. Even with the postwar peculiar restrictions imposed on Highland regiments the diced bonnets and Rob Roy hose should make a brave show.

And the pipes and drums will be arrayed in the glory of full Highland costume.

The piece-de-resistance of the parade of course will come when Princess Mary presents two new colors to the regiment, the Queen's Color and the Regimental Color. Embazoned on the latter will be 10 battle honors of the last war, along with the 10 won in the first war.

The new colors will be consecrated in keeping with the traditions that have grown up through the centuries. Colors are in essence battle flags even though nowadays they are no longer carried in battle. They have been closely associated with religion from the earliest times. The Israelites carried the sacred standard of the Maccabees. In the armies of pagan Rome the ensigns were worshipped with religious adoration. The banner of William of the Conqueror at Hastings was blessed by the Pope. The consecration of colors has long been an integral part of the military ethos.

So too is the Trooping of the Color ceremony familiar to numerous Victorians. Here also traditions hold sway, and the Canadian Scottish will abide by them when they "troop" the old colors before marching them off.

Troop actually was the word once used to describe the ceremony of Lodging the Color, the forerunner of the trooping, but now it describes the ceremony itself. Lodging was what the word implies, a laying-up for safe-keeping during the night after a day's parade or a day's fighting. It was a simple ceremony but later it was elaborated into the guard mounting parade of the Foot Guards.

Trooping has another connotation. The regimental color was the rallying point of troops in battle, and an identifying badge by which the troops could recognize their own command. The modern trooping ceremony symbolizes this when the color or colors are "trooped" through the ranks as they will be on Saturday.

Another picturesque military custom is that witnessed by Victorians each time the Retreat is performed at the Cenotaph on summer nights. This ancient rite is believed by some to have had its beginnings during the Crusades, when warriors were called back to camp by a roll of drums. Certainly today's ceremony stems from the 16th century, when the "Retreat Call" summoned the night guard and warned those outside fortified walls that they had better get inside before they were locked out.

Later, in garrison towns, the drums beat a retreat for soldiers to return to their quarters, and publicans dutifully turned off their taps. From this ritual, now grown into the impressive military sunset ceremonies of modern practice, also comes the word "Tattoo," a corruption of the Dutch "tap toe" meaning "turn the taps."

When they parade on Saturday, therefore, the Canadian Scottish will do so as the heirs of all this ancient military custom and procedure, and to cap it, they will march afterwards from Beacon Hill Park right through town with bayonets fixed, the pipes and drums giving forth in martial air and their new colors proudly held aloft.

That should be a fine spectacle indeed.

Events Belie Peace Hopes

France's Algerian Reflection

By GERARD PILOQUET from Algiers

AFTER the OAS setbacks immediately following the Algerian cease-fire (the arrests of ex-generals Joubert and Salan, the cordoning-off of Bab-el-Oued, and the referendum in France), many people hoped that the OAS would decay and lose support. But events since then have belied the hope.

There is an acceptance of violence. The wife of a senior official told me: "You ought to know that the OAS only executes traitors. Random killings are done by the FLN as provocations, as well as by the Communists and 'Barbouzes'; they are only too anxious to smear us and blame us for their own acts."

But this sort of comment, once common, is not so often heard now. The ruthlessness of the OAS has added to the fear, fear turning to panic, which has permeated everywhere in the thought of the Muslim avalanche which might pour down from the Casbah.

In the streets of the European quarter there is no loitering. In the Place du Gouvernement I saw a small incident which illustrates the tension. Two men accidentally collided with one another, one a Muslim, the other a European. As soon as they had recovered, they broke apart, turned around and bolted.

People from Metropolitan France are regarded with suspicion. By chance I was able to talk intimately with families in Bab-el-Oued. After the shooting in the Rue d'Ily I was arrested by security forces and interned in a camp for four days with 600 men from Bab-el-Oued. Despite the guilt which separated me politically from my fellow-prisoners, the fact that I had also been a victim of the "Gaullist Gestapo" helped me and enabled me to move freely in Bab-el-Oued on my release and talk to people who had previously been silent and hostile.

An engineer (one of my fellow-detainees) seemed to typify the obsessions of many French in Algeria.

"All right, so you Metropolitan can't understand our problems. You get all steamed up over a few murdered Muslims. What else do you expect us to do? Do you really know what fear is like? Do you know how it feels to run down the street to take cover from gunfire, real or imagined? And do you know how it feels to leave everything and flee to a country—France—which is not your own?"

The Packback

Pompous Bird

By GREGORY CLARK

IN the cool of the evening, backwards, and with neck stretched forward and tail desperately depressed it would battle to recover its equilibrium. Any bird of ordinary intelligence would have let go and dropped gracefully to the ground, or taken wing. But pigeons are among the more pompous of the bird kingdom. And for a solid two or three minutes, this one teetered, wobbled, bowed, spread its tail and wings while the wire wobbled.

My neighbor, who was conversed as I was, came down the garden. "I know people like that," he groaned.

I suggested that this fear was just the fear of making a new start, that fear had been ruling the Casbah for seven years, and reminded him of the guarantees for Europeans in the Evian agreements.

"Not one of us will stand for the sight of the green flag flying over French buildings," he said. "Nor will we stand for domination by a foreign government. You want us to go and welcome Ben Bella. It's my view that nothing we've built in this country will survive us."

"We shall destroy everything. Most of the schools have been blown up with plastic already. The oil wells will be next, the airports, the government offices. Nothing will be left, if you hear, if your government insists on humiliating us. And who dare be sure that we shan't take the civil war with us to France after we've been forced to go there. The French have made fools of us, cuckolded us, put us to shame, and we'll make them pay dearly for it."

"Will it be such a surprise when the bombs start going off in Paris cinemas and trains are derailed? Not to your government which is trying to appease us now, it's got a had conclusion. How else can you explain Salan's pardon? It knows that we are all behind him. And it's not just a coincidence that your tribunals don't dare condemn our patriots to death. No, France hasn't yet finished paying for what she has put us through."

I spent some time with a friend, a school teacher. His view was that "France hates the OAS because one can only hate one's double. In the OAS you Metropolitan French see your real face, the face of racialism and fascism. And you reject this face because it is your own. How can you condemn the OAS methods when you have used these methods yourselves for so many years? The killers who set bombs and machine-gun women and children learned their trade with certain units in the French Army. How long did it take you in France to become angry about the torture and regroupment camps, about a young generation conscripted against its will for an unjust war, about France's international shame?"

"You want to remove it all with one stroke now and be rid of it, but what about the infection it has caused. By rejecting the face of the OAS, France is refusing to look at her own face because that face frightens her."

Mr. Nixon's Critical Task

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE heroic dimensions of Richard Nixon's task in this, his seventh and climactic crisis are well defined by the results of the California primary. As had been expected, nearly one-third of the Republican voters showed their preference for a conservative aggressively asserting the conservative stand on all major issues.

The former vice-president must now win back those in his own party who voted for Joseph C. Shell, the state assemblyman who carried his generously financed campaign to every corner of the state. As part of that campaign Shell repeatedly said that if Nixon were the nominee he would be defeated by Governor Edmund G. Brown by at least a half-million votes. And in the aftermath of the primary there is no indication he has changed this view or that he will change it unless Nixon embraces the conservative line of the party's right wing.

At the same time Nixon has to attract 20 per cent of the Democratic vote. The Republicans outnumber the Democrats four to three in registration. On the face of it this appears to be a hopeless proposition. But no one who has read Nixon's book, "Six Crises," will discount the chances of a political figure who invariably casts himself against great odds charging into the arena to face the enemies of darkness.

The results in the Republican senatorial primary give what is probably a truer picture of the status of the extreme right in California. Senator Thomas Kuchel, a moderate Republican in the tradition of Earl Warren, got more than 80 per cent of the vote.

Kuchel's two opponents campaigned actively in the state. Lloyd Wright, a former president of the American Bar Association, took a strong pro-Goldwater line on both foreign and domestic policy. The third man, Howard Jarvis, was a far-out right-winger who criticized Wright for being too liberal. On the basis of nearly complete returns Wright got 35,000 votes and Jarvis 25,000 against upwards of 245,000 for Kuchel.

The relationship between Nixon and Kuchel is not exactly warm. But the man who for so long as vice-president managed to stand nearly in the centre of the national stage now needs Kuchel far more than the senator needs him. As an Earl Warren Republican in a state where party lines are blurred, Kuchel has good reason to hope for the support of moderate and even conservative Democrats.

In having determined, against the advice of many of his friends and followers, to make his comeback in the race for governor, Nixon must weigh carefully what value assistance from outside California can be to him. The Democrats have sought to make an issue of Nixon's lack of knowledge of the state and its overwhelming problems of growth as it moves to top place as the most populous state of the union.

Former President Eisenhower at a recent press conference here took a casual attitude toward the fall campaign in California. He said he might speak for his former vice-president if he happened to be in the state, but that he customarily did not go to what has become his winter home in Palm Desert until the winter.

Election Notes

Liveliest Battle

By ARTHUR BLAKELY

THE liveliest election battle in Canada is being fought to a finish in Toronto's sprawling metro area.

Elsewhere, apathetic voters may be bored to tears watching lacklustre candidates going through the motions.

But not here. Strong personalities are colliding head-on all over the place, keeping hundreds of thousands of electors in a tizzy despite themselves and the reports they hear about what a dull election this one really is. The area generates enough political thrills and chills, drama and excitement to supply a province.

And for that matter, the stakes in Metro Toronto—18 seats in the House of Commons—are higher than those being played for in any of the provinces except Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.

The secret of the high degree of interest being maintained isn't hard to unravel. It's talent. In this election in particular, Toronto ridings have it to burn.

Three cabinet ministers are seeking re-election here. Trade Minister George Hees, a man to be reckoned with should the Conservative Party leadership become vacant, returns periodically to his stronghold of Toronto-Broadview. Public Works Minister Dave Walker, close friend and confidant of Prime Minister Diefenbaker, is running hard in Rosedale. Finally, Canada's most controversial political figure of the moment, pugna, dogmatic, tenacious and indefatigable Finance Minister Donald M. Fleming, is toppled in the fight of his life in Eglinton.

The Liberals have some of their biggest wheels turning in this area as well. Mr. Walter Gordon, Liberal brainstruter de luxe, is going all out to capture Toronto-Davenport. And he just might do it, at that. Mr. Mitchell Sharp, senior civil servant turned politician, is running such a rough time of it in Eglinton. And the Hon. Paul Hellyer, former associate minister of national defence (is when he can spare the time from his national campaigning) trying to retain Toronto-Trinity.

Other parties are also giving the Toronto seats a good deal of attention. Acid-tongued David Lewis, whose fertile imagination had a good deal to do with the decision to launch the New Democratic Party, is going for broke in York South.

He's never had much luck in previous election essays. But that isn't stopping him this time. And then there is that notable CCFer turned New Democrat, Mr. Andrew Brewin, enlivening the contest in Toronto-Greenwood. Even the Communists have entered some of their best talent here with Mr. Leslie Morris giving it a whirl in Trinity.

Added attractions include such worthies as Mr. John Bassett, Jr., publisher of the Toronto Telegram, running as a straight Conservative in Spadina; Mr. Robert "Silent Bob" McGregor, seeking re-election in York East; and the Hon. Roland Michener, quiet-spoken speaker of the Commons, trying in persuasive but non-partisan fashion to secure his return as MP for Toronto-St. Paul's. He looks safe from here. And, indeed, he might well have had an acclamation had the Liberals and NDP given the matter some thought well in advance of the election. Toronto Leads' Red Kelly, looking much more the rookie than he did in the Stanley Cup finals a few months ago, adds a touch all his own.

Social Credit is no factor here. The New Democrats, ably represented, claim to have a chance in half a dozen seats. It doesn't seem likely.

The fate of the Liberal drive to return to office may well be decided here.

They can scarcely hope to win without scoring impressive gains in Ontario in general and Toronto Metro in particular.

In 1958, the Tories swept the area, taking 18 seats out of 18. This time, the Liberals have set six Toronto and York seats as the bare minimum they need, though they would gladly take anything they can get above that figure.

Where will they get them? Hon. Paul Hellyer, who won Trinity in a byelection, should repeat to get them off to a flying start. Mr. Gordon is battling on even terms or better in Davenport, as of this writing. Liberal Pat Cameron seems to have a good chance in High Park, and Dr. Stanley Haldasz is conceded a chance in Parkdale against Arthur Maloney. But Mitchell Sharp and Red Kelly no longer seem as likely to upset Messrs. Fleming and John Hamilton in Eglinton and York West as they did a few weeks ago.

The Liberals, it would appear to this observer, are certain to make gains here. The only question is whether the gains will be on the scale required by their circumstances.

The Japanese forces gained a foothold in the Aleutian Islands 20 years ago today—in 1942—in the Second World War. They occupied Attu, Agafu and Kiska, three of the islands off the coast of Alaska. A year later they were ousted from Attu. When Canadian and U.S. troops landed on Kiska in August, 1943, they found the Japanese had gone.

Mitchell Says:

Peace Only Defence We Oppose A-Arms

A brief outline of party policy for national defence was given by Geoffrey Mitchell, New Democratic Party candidate for Esquimalt-Saanich, at Sidney last night.

"Peace is the only defence," he said.

"The New Democrats oppose, absolutely, nuclear weapons on Canadian soil or in the hands of Canadians anywhere."

Turning to the nation's economy, he said, "The basic question is not whether the economy is to be planned by and for Canadians by a New Democratic government, but rather whether under either of the two old-line parties the present planning for profit by big corporations largely controlled by foreigners is to be continued until Canada loses her political identity in world affairs."

Meet the Candidates—IV

Geoffrey Mitchell

A man who became active in politics after serving 20 years in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police believes he can help solve Canada's unemployment problem if he is sent to Ottawa.

Geoffrey Harris Mitchell, 58, who owns 62-acre Sea Bluff Farm in Metchoin, is the New Democratic Party candidate for the Esquimalt-Saanich riding.

He says the main plank of the NDP is "to create a democratically planned economy in Canada."

Such a measure is "the only way to eliminate the present chronic unemployment problem."

Voters Used Political Axe Eight Times

By FRASER MacDOUGALL

OTTAWA (CP)—Eight times in 24 general elections, Canadian voters have overturned their government, voting one political party out of office and bringing another in.

Conservatives and Liberals, only parties ever to form a federal government, share the turnover victories with four apiece. The Conservative triumphs came in 1878, 1911, 1930 and 1957, the Liberal victories in 1872, 1896, 1921 and 1935.

Among provinces, Nova Scotia has been the most consistent follower of the country's turnover trend. Among constituencies, its capital city of Halifax leads the 40 that date back to Confederation.

Nova Scotia, in electing its Members of Parliament, has switched with the trend five times in the eight turnovers. On two other occasions, 1896 and 1911, it chose an equal number of MPs from the two major parties. In turnover year 1930 it went Conservative but this wasn't a switch since it had been Conservative in 1926.

Voting in the two-day advance poll in Victoria was described as heavy by returning officer Edmond Jorre de St. Jorre last night.

Votes were cast by 730 persons Saturday and Monday.

"As far as we can remember there were less than 100 in 1958," he said.

DIFFERENT STORY

In Esquimalt-Saanich it was a different story. Although no final figure was available, because two stations have yet to report, returning officer John Davies called the turnout light.

Mr. Jorre de St. Jorre attributed the increase to new regulations.

ADVANCE POLL

Previously citizens using the advance poll had to swear they fell into certain travelling occupation categories. Now anyone away from his home constituency on election day can vote.

MANY VOTED

"A good number of our 265 election officers voted in the advance poll," said Mr. Jorre de St. Jorre. "That made quite a lot of difference."

Tory Signs 'Example'

VANCOUVER (CP)—New Democratic Party candidate Tom Berger said Monday night it is significant that Conservative candidates' posters in Vancouver Burrard appear in the windows of empty stores.

"This is a vivid example of the economic stagnation that we have had out of the Diefenbaker government," he said.

Health Need Sole Issue

The main issue in the Saskatchewan medical care plan controversy is the need for such a plan, Delta MLA Mrs. Camille Mather said here last night.

Speaking in favor of Victoria candidate Harry Fanthorpe, she said everybody should have the right to good health, and health should not depend on charity.

Chatterton Urges:

'Examine Pledges'

Progressive Conservative candidate for Esquimalt-Saanich, George Chatterton, launched into the final week of the current campaign last night with a vigorous defence of his party's deficit-spending policy.

"Without the steps taken by the Conservative government when it went into office in 1957, the nation's economy would have been in serious trouble," he told 30 people in the Royal Oak W.I. hall. "What is looked upon now as a mild recession could have been a violent depression."

"The Liberals are going about the country telling us of all the things they intend to do. They propound vast schemes, good for all Canadians, but they don't bother to say where the money is going to come from."

"To do all these things they would have to budget for an even bigger deficit — or put personal income taxes up by 50 per cent."

"I appeal to you as intelligent, responsible people to examine these promises with care."

He denied Liberal charges of an unemployment crisis, claiming that the essential problem is "unemployables rather than unemployment."

"We have tried to promote construction of new technical schools by offering to pay 75 per cent of their capital cost, but the B.C. government hasn't taken full advantage of our offer," he said.

Martin Compares Financial Health

All B.C. Crown agencies are in "a good, healthy financial condition," Health Minister Eric Martin said last night.

At the same time, all federal Crown agencies are running heavily in the red, he told a Social Credit rally at Sanscha Hall in Sidney for Esquimalt-Saanich candidate Reginald Pring.

Mr. Martin said the B.C.

agencies, unlike their federal counterparts, had sinking funds built up for debt retirement.

He said the Social Credit philosophy of pay-as-you-go government requires the abolition of the direct debt of government itself. "This has been achieved in B.C."

On the other hand, continued

the health minister, during five years in office the Conservatives have increased the federal debt by $3,000,000,000, to the point where the annual interest charge is $804,000,000.

"There is no provision to retire any portion of that debt," he said. "This is the most expensive form of government financing known."

Stock Slide Continues

MONTREAL (CP) — Stocks dropped in light trading. Steels were lower. Algoma fell a point to 43.

Among papers, Fraser fell a point to 23 1/2. McE-Millan dropped 1/2 to 18 in active trading and Price was off 1/2 to 46.

International Nickel sold a point to 63 and Aluminum fell 1/2 to 22 among base metals.

Bell Telephone fell 1/2 to 52 1/2 among utilities.

Among industrials Hudson's Bay Company at 10 1/2 fell 1/2. Trans-Canada Pipe Lines dropped 1/2 to 21 in active trading and Pacific Petroleum lost 1/2 to 12 1/2.

Boost for Golds

TORONTO (CP) — Gold issues gained strength in an otherwise slumping stock market.

Giant Yellowknife and Dome both struck 1962 highs, ahead 1/2 and 2 1/2 respectively, as they paced the section's index to its best level this year.

Banks and steels led the industrial decline. Bank of Nova Scotia dropped 1/2 to 6 1/2 — its lowest this year — while Royal Bank fell 1/2 to 6 1/2, also a 1962 low.

New York Weakens

NEW YORK (AP) — Gold mining issues were strong — in spite of a generally declining stock market.

For the market as a whole, it was a poor day both for blue chips and the more speculative issues. The list was down from the start and widened its decline as the session wore on.

Campbell Red Lake, the strongest gold issue, was 10th most active stock, touching an advanced 1 1/2 to 16 1/2, touching a new high for the year. Hostake advanced 2 points and Dome Mines 2 1/2. McIntyre Porcupine added 1/2 and South American Gold and Platinum 1/2.

Brulorne Higher

VANCOUVER — Brulorne at 7.10 and Cariboo at 1.28 gave golds a strong lead but McKinney dropped to 52.

Industrials and oils were easier in light trading.

Montreal Bonds

MONTREAL (CP) — Bond prices were unchanged to a shade lower.

Long-term Canadas, provincials and corporates were mainly unchanged.

London On Holiday

LONDON (Reuters) — The London stock market was closed in observance of the Whitsun holiday.

Grain Markets

WINNIPEG (CP) — An easier tone in prices continued towards the close of moderately active trade.

Kennedy May Follow Devaluation Line

By HARRY YOUNG
Columnist Business Editor

Canadian Triumph?

The United States has been so impressed with the success of the devaluation of the Canadian dollar in restoring Canada's international trading position that it may be thinking of taking similar measures to ease its own monetary troubles.

Pressed on one hand by rate lumbermen of the Pacific Northwest that Canadian rivals are knocking the lights out of them with their lower cost dollar, and by Canadian government pressure against quota or tariff reprisals, President Kennedy last night called upon some of the top U.S. businessmen to find out how the problems can be solved.

On the agenda was the U.S. unfavorable balance of trade and the drain on the U.S. gold reserves.

Conferring with the president was Roger Blough, chief of United States Steel, with whom Mr. Kennedy recently had a furious altercation, and the top men of Du Pont and International Business Machines.

Profits at Peak

Dominion Stores made a net profit of $7,504,540 (93 cents a share) in the year ended March 17, compared with $6,862,339 (85 cents) in the previous fiscal year.

Sales at $408,173,161 were up 1.8 per cent and working capital rose to $25,291,802 up $3,800,000. Net profit sales and working capital were new highs for the company and net profit ratio on the sales dollar rose to 1.84 cents from 1.71 cents a year ago.

To the Holders of British Columbia Electric Company Limited Convertible Sinking Fund Debentures, 6%, Series B

1. THIS IS A FURTHER NOTICE OF THE ROYAL TRUST COMPANY TO THE HOLDERS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTRIC COMPANY LIMITED CONVERTIBLE SINKING FUND DEBENTURES, 6%, SERIES B.

2. Pursuant to paragraph 26 of the Trustee's Notice of 18 May, 1962, to which you are referred, the Trustee applied to the Supreme Court of British Columbia for its opinion, advice and directions in relation to certain matters. The application was heard on 24 and 25 May, 1962.

3. On 5 June, 1962, the Court gave its judgment and on various grounds declined to answer at this time six of the seven questions put to it, largely on the ground that it would be deciding the rights of parties in the current litigation.

4. The Court did answer question (3) and that question and the Court's answer are reproduced hereunder in full:

"(3) Whether the Trustee should, upon such monies being paid by the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority, to or to the order of the Trustee, make payment of the same to the holders of the Series B debentures or any of them and if so on what terms of release to the Trustee, if any."

"Turning to question 3, this question is hypothetical in that no money has been paid to the trustee and may not be paid. However, under the circumstances I am prepared to express my views. I do so upon the following assumptions: (a) that money is paid by the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority to the trustee in purported exercise of the right of redemption of the Series B bonds and in purported compliance with the provisions of clause 5.03 of the Debenture Trust Agreement; (b) that this payment is unconditional in that it is made for the purpose of redeeming the Series B debentures.

"I also emphasize that I am expressing no opinion as to the right of the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority to redeem the said debentures or am I expressing any opinion relative to the rights of the parties or the issues involved in the pending litigation before this Court. I am dealing solely with the position as between the trustee and the debenture holders in the event of such payment being made.

"Any payment through the medium of the trustee to a debenture holder by way of redemption of his debenture would under the terms of the Debenture Trust Agreement necessarily be concurrent with the surrender of the debentures by the holder thereof receiving payment. THIS WOULD INCLUDE THE SURRENDER OF ANY RIGHTS ATTACHED TO SUCH DEBENTURES INCLUDING THE CONVERSION PRIVILEGES UNDER THE AGREEMENT BEFORE ME DATED THE 1st NOVEMBER, 1959, AND MADE BETWEEN BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTRIC COMPANY LIMITED AND BRITISH COLUMBIA POWER CORPORATION LIMITED AND THE ROYAL TRUST COMPANY.

"In my view it rests with the debenture holder to decide what course he wishes to follow under the circumstances. It has been suggested that there are three courses open to him: (1) to surrender his debenture; (2) to exercise his rights of conversion into shares of the British Columbia Power Corporation; and (3) to hold his debenture and await the outcome of the present litigation.

"Based on the assumptions I have expressed, I am of the opinion that upon a debenture holder surrendering his debenture to the trustee for redemption the trustee would not be justified in not paying to him his appropriate share of the monies held, but coupled with that opinion I am of the opinion that the trustee being in a fiduciary capacity should under the unusual circumstances that have arisen, take all reasonable steps to the end that debenture holders, registered and unregistered, are informed of the pending litigation and that BY SURRENDERING HIS DEBENTURE FOR REDEMPTION IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE NOTICE OF REDEMPTION THE DEBENTURE HOLDER'S RIGHTS OF CONVERSION WOULD BE AFFECTED."

5. The Trustee accepts the above advice and by this Notice advises the debenture holders as suggested by the Court.

6. Having applied to the Court for direction the Trustee makes no determination as to the validity or otherwise of the Notice of Redemption issued by British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority.

7. Debenture holders are again referred to the Trustee's Notice of 18 May, 1962, which set out in summary form the status of the proceedings at that time and the principal claims and counterclaims being made by the parties and those contemplating applying to convert should consider in particular paragraphs 15, 17, 18, 19, 23 and 25. Copies of the Notice of 18 May, 1962, are available at any branch of The Royal Trust Company.

8. The Trustee repeats paragraph 24 of the Notice of 18 May, 1962, for the information of debenture holders:

"24. Debenture holders are advised that the funds required for redemption of the debentures are not in the hands of the Trustee but in accordance with the provisions of the Debenture Trust Agreement ought to be made available to the order of the Trustee on or before the date fixed for redemption, that is, June 18, 1962, by or on behalf of the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority. The attention of debenture holders is further directed to Clause 5.03 of the Debenture Trust Agreement which reads in part as follows: 'the Company' meaning the Electric Company."

5.03... the giving of such notice in conformity with the provisions hereof shall, if the Company fails to make such payment (whether such failure results from a change in the Company's intentions, or from circumstances beyond its control or otherwise), produce no more effect as between the Company and any debenture holder than if no such notice had been given."

9. If the funds are made available to the Trustee's order on 18 June, 1962, such funds will be available to debenture holders at any branch in Canada of The Royal Bank of Canada.

DATED at Vancouver, British Columbia, this 9th day of June, 1962.

Old Inn Going Block Coming

The imposing facade of a new $1,000,000 apartment development will rise on the site of Oak Bay's well-known Old Charming Inn within the next 12 months.

Maurice McGregor, spokesman for Chatham Estates Ltd., who will build the new apartment block, said yesterday demolition of the inn will begin as soon as some of the antique furniture has been sold and tenders let to the wreckers.

INN PURCHASED

The Old Charming Inn was purchased for an unreported sum from Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Morrow.

Great care has been taken in designing the new high-rise to ensure its design fits in well with the atmosphere of the Oak Bay waterfront district.

The nine-story luxury apartment on Beach Drive will present a front of conservative simplicity to passers-by. It has been designed so all suites will have a view of the sea.

RUDYARD KIPLING

Mr. McGregor said the Rudyard Kipling — as the apartment will be called — will contain many of the antique furniture pieces for which the Old Charming Inn is famous. Rudyard Kipling's desk, which now occupies a place of honor in the inn, will remain in the foyer of the new building.

Design of the apartment was created by Vancouver architect Wilfred Butjes. Contractor will be Biele Construction of Vancouver.

FRESH AIR

A new pressurizing system for keeping fresh air circulating in the corridors is planned. The landscaped grounds will be topped off with an ultra-modern swimming pool protected by a screen.

Basement locker rooms are planned to serve as bomb shelters.

Two Elected In Sooke As Trustees

Two candidates for school trustees in Sooke District 62 school board were elected by acclamation yesterday.

They are John S. Williams, a supervisor at HMC Dockyard, and Stanley L. Hiscok, an employee of the Liquor Control Board.

A veteran trustee, Mr. Williams is filling out the balance of his own term, which ends in December, 1963. He resigned in protest against a proposed administrative change at Belmont and Elizabeth Fisher secondary schools. Serving on the board for the first time, Mr. Hiscok will fill the unexpired term of Ronald J. Weir, who resigned.

Saanich Club Member Wins 4-H Competitions

Bob Evans of the Saanich 4-H Jersey Club topped the list of winners in a 4-H field day at Saanichton fairgrounds by winning the senior judging competition Saturday.

In second place was Joan Youell, Saanich 4-H Jersey Club, with Nancy Miller, Saanich Home Arts Club, in third place.

Awards in the other sections were: Junior—1, Bob Doney, Saanich Jersey Club; 2, Eva Poulin, Metchoin Sewing Club; 3, Jennie McHattie, 3-S Beef Club.

Intermediate—1, Albert Pellett, Lutton Garden Club; 2,

Beverly Davis, Vancouver Island Rabbit Breeders' Association Rabbit Club; 3, Judy Chilcott, Saanich Jersey Club. Honorable mentions in the intermediate class went to Jean Money, Lutton Goat Club; Rhodena Cronk, South Saanich Goat Club, and Janet Silman, Lutton Poultry and Metchoin Dairy Clubs.

More than 150 members of 4-H farm clubs south of the Malahat attended the event. District agriculturist Ken Jamieson was in charge. Prizes were awarded by Mrs. William McDowell, president of the South Malahat 4-H Advisory Council.

OTTAWA (CP)—The Queen Mother was ushered into Ottawa Monday to the delighted din of 11,000 screaming children. And it was clear from her twinkling eyes and tranquil smile that she loved every minute of it.

Shriels of approval roared out from behind a fluttering mass of red flags as the Queen Mother drove into Lansdowne Park for her first appearance in the city.

The Queen Mother stayed in the park for 25 minutes, stopping there on her way to Rideau Hall.

Governor-General and Mme. Vanier welcomed her at Up-lands. External Affairs Minister Green represented Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

The Queen Mother got into a closed limousine and the cavalcade moved off slowly over narrow two-lane roads into the city.

each of you go out into the world determined by your high endeavor to show yourselves worthy citizens of this great democratic change and unionism," she said.

Thousands Homeless

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A torrential downpour of rain and hail pounded the resort town of Ixtapan de la Sal during the weekend and left at least 2,000 persons homeless and 35 injured, reports reaching here said Monday.

Most of the homeless came from a shantytown area where makeshift shacks crumbled under rain and hail.

Mill to Close

Hillcrest Firm Fires 88 Men

DUNCAN — The long free bus dispute between Hillcrest Lumber Co. and the IWA's local 1-80 came to an apparent end yesterday without settlement.

It closed with the paying off of 88 loggers.

Last Saturday the company asked the men involved, for the final time, to return to work yesterday.

Company president Hector Stone said yesterday the firm had given the loggers sufficient warning. No other company, he added, would have shown so much patience or waited so long.

"Even now," he stated, "the company will consider rehiring most of the loggers if they wish to come back. We want to log."

Local president Weldon Juvenille declined comment on the new development.

The dispute arose Jan. 2 when free transportation was withdrawn and loggers in Duncan and Lake Cowichan refused to provide their own.

Two provincial government recommendations for a temporary settlement were rejected as the workers demanded full restoration of the bus service.

'They Should Be Ashamed'

Three Children's Safety Endangered

NANAIMO — Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts Monday told Leonard Kenneth Jones and his wife Emily "they should be properly ashamed of themselves and should be both sentenced to jail."

Jones, of Port Renfrew, had been fined $160 Saturday on an impaired driving charge and was before the magistrate yesterday on a remanded charge of endangering the life and safety of his three children.

WOMAN LUCKY

The wife, who could not be located Saturday, was present in court Monday and was told she was lucky not to be charged along with her husband.

The three children had been found in the car parked in the middle of a downtown street late Friday, with the mother missing. Jones in an intoxicated condition and the door open. The youngest child, aged six months, was on the front seat crying, and with blood around the mouth.

BROKEN BOTTLES

The other two were lying amid broken beer bottles on the floor of the car with their feet projecting from the open door.

Magistrate Beevor-Potts rejected Jones' plea for return of the children from the custody of welfare authorities, as the youngest is still in hospital and cannot be moved, and there has not yet been opportunity for a complete investigation, required by Mr. Beevor-Potts.

Jones was sentenced to one year's suspended sentence and he and his wife were both interdicted in regard to all liquor for one year.

Food Riots Rage In China

HONG KONG (UPI)—Chinese mobs have stormed a food rationing station in Communist-controlled Canton and other rioters battled police who blocked refugees from fleeing the hunger-stricken city, reports from there said Monday.

Other reports told of the open distribution of anti-Communist leaflets among Canton workers on three days during the first week of June.

OPENED FIRE

The food riot occurred Sunday. Reports said Communist riot squads opened fire on the crowd, wounding at least 10. Scores of others were arrested, it was said.

Refugees who reached the Portuguese colony of Macao said a riot erupted at the Canton railroad station June 2.

Lloyd Refuses to Meet 'Keep Doctors' Group

SASKATOON (CP)—Premier W. S. Lloyd said Monday he will not meet a cavalcade of members of the Keep-Our-Doctors Committee, which is being organized in Saskatoon.

Committee supporters planned the cavalcade Sunday in an effort to persuade Mr. Lloyd to delay the scheduled July 1 start of the provincial compulsory pre-paid medical care insurance plan until agreement has been reached with the doctors. They asked the premier to meet them on the steps of the legislature Friday.

Doctors have said they will not work under the medical care plan. They said if they cannot work outside it they will provide only hospital-based emergency service.

Cuban Ship Claim Upheld by Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—The Cuban government's claim to sovereign immunity from legal seizure of its ships in Halifax harbor was upheld Monday by the Supreme Court of Canada.

The judgment means that the Browning Shipping Interests of Detroit cannot sue Premier Fidel Castro's government for damages in the Exchequer Court of Canada for breach of contract in connection with the operation of the vessels.

EIGHT SHIPS

The case involved eight ships that were sold by the publicly-owned Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships Limited in 1958 to a Cuban chartered bank. The bank contracted with the Browning firm to operate them and Browning also obtained an option to buy the ships.

Roberts Embarrasses Yanks Twins Ahead, Attendance Up

Over-all attendance in the major leagues, an announcement disclosed yesterday, is more than a million fans ahead of last season. And if current events are a sign of things to come, it'll continue to gain.

Interesting things are happening all over the place. Minnesota Twins are leading the American League, Los Angeles Angels are thundering along only two games behind, San Francisco Giants are in their the inning. Roberts' first pitch went sailing over his head.

Maris headed for Roberts, bat in hand, and it took the appearance of three policemen to end the scuffling and name-calling which ensued (see picture on left).

Roberts didn't manage to finish the game, but the Orioles made as certain as they could of his 53 win by relieving with Steve Barber and Hoyt Wilhelm, two of their best.

The Yankees started Sunday with a two-game lead and wound up last night in second place. While they were losing two to the Orioles Sunday, the amazing Twins, hitting three home runs in each game, swept a double bill from Chicago White Sox to pull even.

And the Cleveland Indians

Angels, an even more amazing development than the Twins, took Kansas City twice.

In the National League, the Giants continued their downhill slide by losing twice to the comebacking St. Louis Cardinals while the Los Angeles Dodgers, getting hitting to go with their pitching and speed, boosted their lead to two and a half games with a doubleheader sweep of Houston Colts.

GENE LITTLER
... in peak form

Speaking Briefly

Littler Looks Ready

Gene Littler served notice Sunday that he is in top form for defence of his U.S. Open golf championship by winning the $100,000 Golf Classic with a last-round 67 which gave him a 72-hole total of 275 and the $10,000 first prize.

Jack Nicklaus, carding a final 70, finished two strokes back while Dow Finsterwald and Wes Ellis shared third place with 280s. Sam Snead half-way leader, finished 10th with 284. Canada's Stan Leonard in a 13th-place tie with 285. Gary Player was well down the list at 287 and Arnold Palmer, still in his slump, won $460 for his 290.

Canada completed selection of her teams for the annual pro-amateur golf matches against the United States, in Toronto starting July 2.

The two top-ranked amateurs, Gary Cowan and Nick Westlock were selected by team-manager Bill Hamilton along with Phil Brownlee and Gordie MacKenzie to make it an all-Ontario amateur team. MacKenzie is a former Vancouver star but is now resident in Toronto.

Canada's professional team was named last month—Stan Leonard, Al Balding, Gordie Brydson and George Knudson. The U.S. has chosen Dow Finsterwald, Julius Boros, Galt Brewer and Ernie Vossler for the pro team, has yet to name its amateur quartet.

THE PALMER METHOD

CONCENTRATE ON THE LEFT-HAND GRIP

Once the left hand grip is taken properly, it's simple to get the right hand onto the club correctly. So take more time with the left.

The shaft should cross the left palm diagonally from the bottom (or outer) joint of the forefinger to just below the little finger.

This will produce a so-called "strong" left hand grip, in which the "V" formed by the forefinger and thumb points to the right shoulder.

Fold your left hand over the club and see that the thumb rests slightly to the right-top part of the shaft.

Injuries May Cause Upsets In World Cup Semi-Finals

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Brazil, the defending World Cup soccer champion, had four of its stars on the injured list Monday with only two days remaining before its semi-final match against Chile.

Yugoslavia tackles Czechoslovakia in the other semi-final game Wednesday. The final will be decided June 17.

Pele, Brazil's 21-year-old inside forward star injured in a match against Czechoslovakia June 2, has gone back into training and may be fit for the semi-final.

Three other Brazilian stars receiving treatment for knocks and bruises after Sunday's 3-1 victory over England were right winger Garrincha, inside right Didi and inside left Amarildo. Garrincha and Amarildo, Pele's substitutes, have bruises on their legs but likely will be fit for Wednesday's game.

Didi, however, is doubtful. He suffered two kicks on the right leg Sunday and a Brazilian official said it is questionable if

Leave Rules Alone Soccer Body Says

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian soccer officials take note: Federation International de Football Associations—FIFA—wants no tampering with the rules governing international soccer.

The warning came from FIFA after it learned that official of the Eastern Canada Professional Soccer League were attempting to introduce hockey rules into soccer.

Some of the changes were to include penalizing players for rough play as is done in hockey. When word of the changes reached FIFA, the association let it be known that any team playing under the new rules could be suspended.

Harold Ballard, ECPSL president and chairman of the management committee of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, outlined reasons Monday night for trying to introduce hockey rules into the game.

"We were greatly concerned with rough play creeping into our games so we thought we could institute some kind of legislation that would beat the situation."

"But we found, after a meeting with referees and a thorough attempt to reach a sensible solution to the problem, that hockey-type penalties were not feasible. Enforcing them posed too great a problem."

In hockey a player has to sit out of the game for a minimum of two minutes for a minor infraction; in soccer the player does not, the penalty being awarded against the whole team in the form of a free kick.

Willing to Risk Boycott To Continue Segregation

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—South Africa will risk being banned from the 1964 Olympics and a total boycott in international sports rather than yield an inch on government policy against racial integration, Jan Dekker, minister of the interior, told a rally of the National Party Saturday night.

Dekker, whose office has charge of enforcing racial segregation in sports, gave this defiant reply to a warning given South Africa last week by the International Olympic Committee meeting in Moscow.

The IOC told South Africa it will be suspended next year if the South African government does not change its policy of racial discrimination in sports.

Rocks Jacked Up As Wilson Returns

Wilson was one of the most promising of the seven rookies the club brought into the Inter-City Lacrosse League in 1959, when he scored 18 goals and had nine assists.

Studies at University of Colorado kept him out of all but 12 games in 1960, but he managed 15 goals and nine assists. Last year he was out of lacrosse, but this season he has been playing field lacrosse at Colorado, where he is studying on a hockey scholarship.

Known as an exceptionally fine stick-handler and checker, Wilson is regarded by coach Arnie Ferguson as the type of player to put some badly needed drive into the Shamrocks.

Wilson worked out with the club last night, and will be in the lineup tomorrow night when Shamrocks play Nanaimo.

Meanwhile, New Westminster regained a share of first place last night with a 14-7 victory over Norburn at New Westminster, led as usual by Cliff Sepka.

Nanaimo tops 'B' Lacrosse

Nanaimo took over first place in the Senior "B" Lacrosse League last night, edging Jokers, 12-10, in a rugged game at Memorial Arena to break their tie.

Don Morelli scored four goals. Bill Good had three and Ken Blasutig two for Nanaimo. Al Manson, Larry Biggs and Ron Olmstead got the others.

I Wasn't Fired

ROME (AP) — Walter Wanger denied Monday he had been fired as producer of the movie "Cleopatra," declaring, "I remain in charge of production here and I will complete the movie." In Hollywood, 20th Century-Fox studio said Wanger has been taken off salary, allegedly because of delays.

Wanger conceded he and 20th Century-Fox are in a dispute over his salary and expenses. As for being fired, Wanger said this was not possible because "this movie is a project I brought to 20th Century-Fox."

Veteran Pastor Was 'Drafted' Into Ministry

A former printer who was "drafted into the ministry" today celebrates 50 years of service with the Methodist and later the United Church of Canada.

Rev. E. F. Church was ordained on June 12, 1912, at Metropolitan Methodist Church in Toronto and since then has served in Toronto, Winnipeg, Moose Jaw, Vancouver and Victoria.

At 51, he is now pastor at Cadboro Bay United Church.

WAS TYPESETTER
 Mr. Church worked in the job department of the Toronto Daily Mail from 1900 to 1904 as a typesetter, but left the printing trade in 1904 to join Dominion Life Insurance.

"At this time I was a member of a Methodist young men's club," recalled the elderly churchman. "I represented the club in an oratorical competition. I must have kicked up quite a stir, because people told me I'd make a great preacher or actor."

"The Methodist Church put pressure on me and I was drafted into the ministry."

FIRST BROADCAST
 Mr. Church graduated from the University of Toronto and began his ministry at Elm Street Methodist Church in Toronto.

While serving at Crescent Fort Rouge Church in Winnipeg, he made what he believes to be the first Canadian broadcast of a church service, on Easter morning in 1921, over station CKY.

Mr. Church was minister of Metropolitan United Church here from 1930 to 1937.

PROGRAM LAUNCHED
 He came out of active retirement in 1957 to start a Sunday school at the Cadboro Bay Scout Hall.

"At that time we had 40 children and a volunteer staff of 10," he recalled.

The next year a congregation was organized and church services held in the hall. A building program was launched and the present church was opened March 27, 1960.

The congregation now numbers 212.

SECOND TIME
 Mr. Church plans to retire a second time July 1. At one time an active golfer, he still plays the occasional nine or 10 holes.

"I like the pitch-and-putt courses," he said.

Mr. Church used to play "two or three times a week" and had playing rights at Colwood Golf Club.

"I never managed a handicap lower than 14," he admitted.

GIVEN CUP
 The congregation at Cadboro Bay United honored the elderly churchman Sunday night.

They presented him with the cup and salver with which he conducted battlefield communion for the 1st Battalion Canadian Engineers during the First World War.

The cup and salver, which Mr. Church still uses, were in a shadow box setting with a plaque beneath.

The Sunday school presented Mrs. Church with a gold cup-and-salver set.

Radar Waits For Signs
 City police are still waiting for the engineer's department to turn out enough warning signs before they start using their brand-new radar set.

Several signs have already been posted in the city, Deputy Chief Harry Mercer said yesterday.

The signs will be movable so they can be switched from point to point around the city.

Main object of the radar patrolling will be to detect speeders.

Martin Backs Marilyn

Movie Called Off

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Officials at 20th Century-Fox studios yesterday shut down production on its trouble-ridden movie Something's Got to Give, from which Marilyn Monroe was recently fired.

A studio spokesman released a terse statement which said the studio has reluctantly closed down filming of the picture. No mention was made about future plans for the picture.

WAS FIRED

Miss Monroe was fired from the movie last week because of her repeated absences from the picture. She was replaced by Lee Remick.

Marilyn's co-star in the film, Dean Martin, then announced he wouldn't appear with Miss Remick or any other actress in the movie.

Miss Remick was reluctant to discuss the Fox decision to close down the production.

'NO COMMENT'

"I'm pretty much aware of everything that's going on," she said. "I have no comment, nothing at all. I'm not angry at anybody."

Martin, who met with Fox officials yesterday, said, "Gee, that's a shame" when informed of the decision.

"If they'd kept Marilyn in the cast, I think we could have made a very fine picture. But she was too sick to go ahead with it. So that's it," he said. "I hope it doesn't hurt the studio too much, what with all that trouble with Cleopatra."

Fox also is producing Cleopatra, which has cost an estimated $30,000,000.

Skipper Maps Out Nature—Has Fun

By EDITH M. SMITH

Naturalist Freeman King thinks the provincial government has something going very well for it—and doesn't realize the fact.

Skipper, as Mr. King is known to thousands, has probably introduced more people, plants, birds and bugs to each other than anyone who ever lived hereabouts. His interests led him to take a key part in establishment of the Thomas S. Francis nature park, on the fringe of Thetis park.

Within the park naturalists of Greater Victoria have built a "nature house" in which the park's plant life is displayed.

Because of his activity in the project, Mr. King was appointed park naturalist; the province also named him fire warden. Then they had another happy thought, and appointed him park naturalist at nearby Goldstream Park.

"But what do I do?" Mr. King wanted to know.

"We're not sure. It's something new—you map it out," was the reply.

He is still mapping—and having a wonderful time.

Since the Francis park nature house opened May 1, Mr. King reports with pleased surprise, 500 visitors have bent over its displays and listened to the explanations offered by staff on duty.

"Incidentally," Mr. King points out, "these include many of our junior members, 14 years old and up."

He's particularly happy about the number of visitors because the park hasn't been widely advertised, and is not too easy to find.

Still, the word is getting out, and Mr. King and his staff are keeping the scene shifting so as to be up to date.

Every week the displays of plant life are changed, to keep pace with the changing season. This will continue through the full season.

Meanwhile, Mr. King has been making himself known to visitors at Goldstream—both campers and picnickers. For their guidance he has identified by signs many of the trees and plants of the area.

One unrelated fact Skipper finds especially pleasing. With one accord, visitors from south of the border and from Eastern Canada exclaim over the neatness of B.C. highways and campsites.

"They've never, they tell him, seen anything like it. As one California visitor said: "Down our way, you should see the beer cans!"

WILLIAM ELFORD... away it goes!

100 Per Cent Increase

Ferry Records Smashed As Tourist Tide Mounts

Ferry traffic from the U.S. to southern Vancouver Island this year has smashed all previous records and indications point to a boom year for tourists.

In May the Washington State Ferries service between Sidney and Anacortes showed a 100 per cent increase over the same period in 1961.

Both Black Ball Transport Inc., which operates the Victoria-Port Angeles run, and CP Steamships' Victoria-Seattle service report "substantial increases" over normal years. Spokesman for all ferry companies agreed the Seattle fair had sparked the increase.

C. E. Blaney, Jr., local agent for WSP, said the Sidney-Anacortes ferry last month carried a total 1,981 cars with 6,981 passengers from the U.S. to Sidney.

During the same period last year there were 988 cars with 3,910 passengers.

Sixty per cent of the increase is due to California visitors, said Mr. Blaney.

FULL LOADS
Four daily round trips began on the run last week and will continue through Sept. 4. Most ferries already carry full loads.

A CPR spokesman said yesterday's sailing of the Princess Marguerite from Seattle to Victoria and return carried "more than 1,900" passengers. Number of passengers is staying "pretty consistently around 1,800." The ship is certified to carry 2,000.

NEW CAPACITY
Pat Frumento, local manager of Black Ball Transport, which operates the ferry Col on a four roundtrip daily summer schedule, said increased business keeps the vessel at near capacity.

He gave much credit to the new B.C. House in San Francisco and to Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

Motels Unhappy

Civil Action On Smoke?

Possibility of a civil action for damages caused by fly ash fallout loomed large last night, despite city hall assurances that plants which break the city's smoke bylaw will be prosecuted immediately.

"Seeing is believing; we have had similar assurances before," said L. E. Todd, managing director of the Windsor Motor Court and Motel.

MAIN CONCERN
"We have consulted our legal counsel and our plans depend on what the city does in the near future and the results achieved."

"My main concern is to get some action—to get this ridiculous situation cleaned up."

"We don't want to hurt anyone but we are being hurt, ourselves, and we have to protect our investment."

WATCHING BRIEF
"Our solicitor is keeping a watching brief on this situation."

"We have been watching the situation for more than a year, now."

"They were given seven months to meet the requirements of the bylaw when it was adopted and in that time we saw no material improvements."

"Today, the wind swung over here once and the pool was covered with a beautiful layer of black ash in minutes."

Mr. Todd was one of several motel operators who blasted city hall over the smoke situation last week.

Another was Warren Fonteyne, manager of the Royal Victorian Motor Hotel.

"I do not feel happy with the situation now," he commented. "The situation hasn't improved in the past two days and we don't expect it will for a while."

'Army' Drive Halfway To Target

The $50,000 Salvation Army fund drive has topped the halfway mark, campaign chairman Courtney Haddock said yesterday.

Though the drive started three weeks late, he said it was three weeks ahead of schedule in contributions.

Spirited Topic Occupies 30 Delegates

Delegates from across Canada gathered at the Empress Hotel yesterday with one thing uppermost in their minds—booze!

The 30 delegates are attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Provincial Liquor Commissioners and represent all Canadian provinces with the exception of Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island.

Secretary Col. C. W. Woodrow from Toronto said the working meetings—and there will be a series—will be closed. A statement will be issued later.

Just Like Old Times!

Heart Victim Condition Good

R. C. McMorris, associate manager of the engineering division of the B.C. Hydro and Power Authority, who suffered a heart attack Sunday, was in fairly good condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital last night.

The Canadian-built replica of the famous Bounty and the four-masted Chilean training schooner Esmeralda are now expected to arrive about the same time Wednesday morning.

Adverse winds off the Oregon and Washington coasts which earlier delayed the Bounty were also blamed for the latest 24-hour delay in arrival.

As a result, the RCN has been forced to cancel plans for two frigates to escort the Bounty from Trial Island to the harbor entrance.

A Pacific Command spokesman said yesterday the original arrival times Monday morning coincided with operations of a pair of frigates in the area.

First meeting of the newly formed Tape Recording Club will be held in the studio of the Victoria Society of Artists 1121 Vancouver Street, at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

All those interested in tape recording as a hobby are invited to attend.

When infected organs are found in carcasses, the carcasses are subjected to strict inspection before being passed as fit for consumption, health board medical officer Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread said yesterday.

"If Dr. Gaunt finds the infection involves the whole carcass it is destroyed," he said. "The carcass is quite satisfactory in some cases."

STOPGAP MEASURE

Pickers Problem Grows As Strawberries Ripen

Berry pickers still are in demand as the Saanich strawberry crop nears picking time.

Officials at the National Employment Service yesterday described response to their appeal for pickers as "still slow."

"We expect more as the season advances."

PICKED LAST WEEK

Meanwhile the first commercial strawberry on the Saanich Peninsula was picked last week.

Farmers are doing their own picking now, said an NES spokesman. But more pickers are expected to be in demand toward the end of this week.

As school children make up 80 per cent of registered pickers, a serious gap is expected between now and school closing June 28.

"We can still use all the pickers we can get," said the spokesman.

Persons who have difficulty

Around Town

In getting to the NES office on Johnson Street may register by phoning EV3-6711.

Regular meeting of the Victoria (Chinatown) Lions Club will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in Ming's Kitchen.

A thief with an eye toward entering the garage business made off with a number of tires and tools in a break-in at Victoria Auto Wreckers early Monday.

Stolen were new and used tires worth about $100 and tools valued at $26.

As an afterthought the thief drained all the oil from one of the firm's tow trucks.

Brian Fraser was elected master counsellor of the newly formed Signal Hill Order of DeMolay at a meeting last night.

Other officers include Don ald Robson, senior counsellor; Ian Jamieson, junior counsellor; James Powers, scribe treasurer; Wayne Morrison, senior deacon; Glen Kraebling, junior deacon; Bob Botten, marshal; and Brian Womsey, chaplain.

Installation will be held at 8:30 p.m. June 22 at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club hall.

A solitaire diamond ring was turned in to city police station by Andrew Harcharyk, 734 Discovery, yesterday.

He said the ring was lying on Yates Street in front of Tip Top Tailors. It bore the initials R.G.P.

Annual meeting of Sangster PTA will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the school.

A fun fair will be held by members of Garden City United Church at 2 p.m. Saturday on the church grounds at Carey and Norwood.

Pony rides, athletic contests, a fancy dress parade, and pancake feast are included in the six-hour program.

Glenn Film Today

A film of United States astronaut Lt.-Col. John Glenn's recent orbital flight will be shown at a meeting of the Victoria Kiwanis Club at noon today in the Empress Hotel.

Premier Bennett and Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell will lead a welcoming party to board the vessel in the Inner Harbor.

The 308-foot Esmeralda will sail directly to Esquimalt where she will berth at the government wharf near HMCS Naden.

Museum Sets Hours

The provincial museum will remain open nightly except Sundays until 9, beginning Friday.

The extension has been ordered to accommodate large numbers of visitors anxious to visit the museum after regular business hours.

Several new displays—including additions to the colorful native-bird section—have been completed by the curator's office in recent weeks.

Museum will now be open from 8:30 a.m. until 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Sunday hours are from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. These hours will continue for the summer season.

Recording Club Being Organized

First meeting of the newly formed Tape Recording Club will be held in the studio of the Victoria Society of Artists 1121 Vancouver Street, at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

All those interested in tape recording as a hobby are invited to attend.

BURIED TREASURE: Workmen were bulldozing the site for some guest cabins over at Salt Spring Island the other day when they spotted an odd-looking seal poking out of the ground.

Courtney Haddock happened to be on hand and watched as the men unearthed two bottles of wine.

The workmen were all for knocking off the tops then and there but Mr. Haddock persuaded them to give him a bottle and he's brought it back to Victoria.

He's convinced the ancient jugs are part of the loot of former rum-runners in the days of prohibition in the U.S. when boatloads of the stuff were smuggled into the San Juan Islands.

From what can be read of the labels it appears the product is from the Lindeman River Vineyards in Australia.

The cache was unearthed on the property owned by Mrs. Grace Gilman, near Falford.

Any Mr. Haddock's research is continuing.

STRAINGER IN PARADISE: Last time Premier Bennett staged one of his rallies in the Royal Theatre an invitation to attend was sent to the city's Bill Scott.

Mr. Scott duly turned up and, after waving his invitation in the face of an official and still refused admittance, managed to become involved in an altercation with the Secord.

Tonight Premier Bennett speaks in the Royal Theatre again and invitations have again gone out.

Among the invitees—Bill Scott!

SCRAPS FROM THE ITEMIZER: The Esquimalt-Saanich federal by-election a year ago could possibly have been ruled out of order because of the times the polls were open—from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. It only came to light this year when chief electoral officer Nelson Cantagony ruled that owing to B.C.'s daylight saving act the polls will close at 7 p.m. Anyway, it's water under the bridge now!

Provincial liquor commissioners in conference at the Empress Hotel blanch a little when one asks if an increase in prices is in the works. They say it's none of their business! ... Some of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobor women charged over the recent outbreak of arson in the Kootenays are the same who stripped at Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's meeting at Trail late last month.

OLD STYLE JOKE: "I hear you have been misbehaving," said King Arthur to Sir Galahad.

"Hah!" said a Tory in the audience. "That's about proportionate to their chances."

Newsboy 70 Years Ago He Still Loves the Job

Just 70 years ago, a wiry young Victorian pulled a battered Daily Colonist carrier boy's bag over his shoulder, mounted his horse and struck off on a 17-mile paper route through Esquimalt.

The time was a few minutes before 4 a.m.

Thus did William Elford, now 72 years old, begin a habit which was to stay with him throughout his life.

Though 82, Mr. Elford is finished with breakfast and striding briskly to work by 7 a.m.

Unusual Man

The white-haired old Victorian leaves you with the impression you have met a highly unusual man.

Somewhere along the way.

William Elford took such a firm hold on life he has never found the time for his old age. He doesn't think it strange that an 80-year-old should be out mowing lawns at the crack of dawn.

Not Difficult

He doesn't think about it at all.

Nor does he think the schedule he followed during the three years with The Daily Colonist was particularly difficult.

"My route was spread out over 17 miles, and in those days we had to fold our papers first, so some of us started work at 3:30 in the morning."

Three Years

By hustling his horse along the last few miles, he was just able to get home, get cleaned up and rush for school.

"I kept that up, seven days a week, winter and summer, for three years and I loved it," he recalled.

Customer complaints resulted in Mr. Elford taking over the Esquimalt route in the first place.

Never Found

It was noted that, whenever a visiting ship came to berth, the boy on the route missed most of his customers.

"I don't think the paper ever found out," Mr. Elford said, "but this youngster used to take his papers down and bootleg them to news-hungry sailors for a half a dollar a copy."

His Advice

Relaxing in his living room at 1436 Elford yesterday, he offered this succinct advice to parents who feel they have a delinquency problem in the house.

"Get the youngster out delivering papers, that'll keep him out of mischief!"

City Police On Alert For Hotrods

City police said yesterday special patrols are being used on Shelbourne Street following complaints from residents that hotrod drivers were using the street as a "dragstrip."

Deputy Chief Harry Meeker said "special attention" followed a petition to the city signed by 129 residents living along Shelbourne from Hillside to Haultain.

Falling Drum Injures City Worker

DRUM SLIPPED

Louis Schmelz, 3216 Parker Avenue, received chest and back injuries and severe lacerations when the 500-pound drum slipped out of a sling while it was being unloaded by a crane.

The drum fell about 30 feet and struck Mr. Schmelz on the back, hurling him face first into a donkey engine he was operating.

AT WHARF

He is employed by Pacific Piledriving Co. Ltd., 401 Yates. The accident occurred at the wharf behind the company's offices.

Witnesses said a chain sling around the drum apparently slipped, dumping the heavy metal barrel to the deck.

'Ya-Ya' Girls in London Raise Hems Eight Inches

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Unfamiliar British sunshine brought forth this Whitsuntide holiday a crop of the world's shortest skirts. "Historically," commented clothes expert Mrs. Madge Garland, "never before have women worn such short skirts." For the last three days, young girls by the hundreds have turned out with hemlines two to eight — repeat eight! — inches above their knees.

IN CHURCH

"You can see them in the parks . . . on the streets . . . on the seaside promenades . . . on the buses . . . on the subways . . . in restaurants . . . at parties . . . and even in church. Whitsuntide is one of Britain's biggest holidays. Whitsun is the seventh Sunday and the 50th day after Easter. The holiday began Saturday and ended at midnight Monday.

It gave the girls an opportunity to stage an unofficial style show that paled the Easter parade.

YA-YA GIRLS

The Whitsuntide skirts have become so abbreviated that a name has been coined for their wearers: ya-ya girls. Etymologists say ya-ya comes from yea-yea and in its current usage is a double-barreled term of approval and appreciation. A sort of wolf-whistle broken up into a hyphenated word.

"It's sensational," said Norman Curtis, who runs a chain of dress shops catering to ya-ya girls. "We can't make the dresses short enough."

He explained that the girls wear layers of frothy petticoats beneath their dresses, and this hikes the hemline a few more inches.

Said Mary Quant, who runs a fashion house in the Chelsea beatnik belt: "By 1970, skirts could be halfway between the knees and the hips."

Ya-ya girls are, of course, nothing new. Dad and granddad knew them as flappers.

The ya-yas of 1932 are Britain's welfare state babies grown up, a generation of girls fed on government-supplied milk and orange juice. They've got shapely legs—and they like to show them.

Ridotto Success

Sevenoaks Children's Centre was the scene of the annual ridotto held Saturday afternoon by the Women's Auxiliary to the Family and Children's Service.

Highlight of the afternoon was a fashion show displaying styles from Taylor's Apparel and hats and accessories from Miss Frith's. Mrs. L. A. Noon convened the show. W. W. Sinclair was commentator and Mrs. Edward Nixon played background organ music. Models were Miss Canada, Nina Holden; Miss Victoria, Synnove Pettersen, and Penny Tisdall, Pat Blernes, Lory Midler and Julie Banfield.

General convenor was Mrs. Ruth Reeve. Other conveners were Mrs. P. H. Hubin, Mrs. W. F. Hibbert, Mrs. H. A. Brown, Mrs. C. Parrott, Mrs. E. H. Edgar, Mrs. T. Holmes, Mrs. N. B. Blackmore, Mrs. A. E. Cooper, Mrs. Mary Webb, Mrs. R. R. Wilde, Mrs. C. B. Conway, Mrs. E. Charlton and Mrs. Richard Martin.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. H. Campbell, Mrs. B. Packford, Miss C. D. Holmes, Mrs. Ruth Reeve, Mrs. J. A. de Bourcier, Mrs. E. C. Brown, Mrs. D. Woodsworth, Mrs. R. R. Wilde, Miss H. Staghall, Miss M. King, Mrs. J. H. L. Gillis, Mrs. Ruth Adams and Alderman Mrs. W. H. Wilson.

Newly-elected president of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto Alumnae, Victoria Chapter, is Mrs. T. Brandon. Named at the 25th annual meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Goodman, 39 Linden Avenue, Mrs. Brandon succeeds Lorna Langley, who was presented with a gift of dogwood necklaces and earrings. New first and second vice-presidents are Mrs. G. Warrack and Mrs. R. Whittington. Other officers are Miss Ann Van der Voort, Mrs. B. Gollub, Miss Helen Gibson, Miss Noel Smith, Mrs. Margery Vaughan, Mrs. T. W. A. Gray, Mrs. J. Garrison and Mrs. S. E. Bulman Fleming.

Garden Notes

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

One of my good gardening friends had a difficult choice to make last summer.

He had a lovely garden, with rich, well-worked loam soil, and a collection of perennial plants and rare and beautiful flowering shrubs which was the envy of all his neighbours. The house, however, was poorly designed, and with his growing family, its layout was so inconvenient as to be exasperating.

Last summer Andy was offered an exceptionally good buy on a house which had everything he and his wife wanted—except a garden. Oh, the lot was big enough, but it was a barren, stony waste, with a soil more fitted for mixing into concrete than for the growing of plants. It just about broke Andy's heart to leave his lovely garden for this stony wilderness, but the claims of the house won out, and he moved in.

Someone once said a true gardener will make a garden anywhere—on a mountain, in a desert, even in a tub! Andy is a real gardener, and I wish you could see what he is doing with his new place.

He has abandoned any thought of growing roses, delphiniums or peonies—he wouldn't condemn such gross feeders to a lingering death in his poor, hungry soil—and is concentrating all his efforts on plants which can get along on a spartan diet.

His first choice went to the Heli-anthemums or Sun Roses, those shrubby little evergreens which thrive in a hot, dry situation. These plants smother themselves for the best part of the summer with the most gorgeous colored blooms, and Andy has acquired a collection of named varieties which includes a lot of my own favorites, such as Mrs. C. W. Earle, double crimson; The Bride, white blossoms with a golden heart and attractive silver foliage; Ben Afflick, gold with an orange centre, and Rhodantha carneum, a delicate pink variety.

Another rather uncommon plant he has acquired is Erodium guttatum or Heron's Bill, first cousin to the wild geranium. The flowers are white with a distinctive black blotch and most attractive to the bees, while the feathery foliage is a pure delight.

Antennaria do extremely well on poor, gravelly soil, and these golden daisies are as easy to grow as radishes. Andy has managed to scrounge cuttings of several named varieties, including Loddon and Grail-lagh Gold, and seeds of Sancti Johannis, all of which bear rich golden flowers throughout July and August. While these plants grow two to three feet high, they are related to the prostrate Chamomile, once used for lawns, and the leaves give off the same aromatic fragrance when crushed.

I have suggested to Andy that he interplant his Antennaria with the perennial cornflower, Centaurea montana, as its rich blue flowers associate well with the golden daisies. This one, too, will get along in the poorest kind of soil.

Thrift is another plant which seems to perform better on meagre, gravelly fare than in rich loam, bearing clover-like flowers in pink, white and crimson.

Andy's choice of shrubs is most interesting, too. Gone are the rhododendrons and camellias and magnolias of his old garden, and he has planted such unusual subjects as Russian Sandthorn, Buffalo Berry, Russian Olive, False Indigo, Cinquefoil and the single-flowered Prunus triloba.

Lots of Lovely Love Lost!

I come from a generation when "I love you, I LOVE you, I L-O-O-V-E you" was considered the very last word in lyric writing. It said everything of importance to a lyric writer and it said it three times. Love was the only thing the lyric writer knew about, the only thing he believed in.

But now a new note is creeping in:

"The sound of money!"
"The lovely sound of money," sings Elliot Gould in I Can Get It For You Wholesale.

"I find it appealing"
"A feeling"
"You may share!"

That's the new and, on the whole, deplorable trend among the song-writers. No sloppy muck in there about love. None of this gush about the softness of her skin, the feel of her lips; it's the smell of money sets the lyric writers quivering like a jelly. The same passionate detail those fellows used to spend rhapsodizing about the light in her eyes, they now spend expostulating on the uses of money:

"Diamonds catch my eye"
"And I hear angels harmonize"
"Sables passing by whisper lullabies."
"A great big yacht about to dock

"Makes such a couth and soothing sound"
"A block of blue chip stock"
"Music all around."

That (also from The Sound of Money) is what you might call a song of passion about money. Nothing disturbing creeps in there. You might call it: I Can Give You Everything But Love, Baby. However, there's a different kind of song in which money is important but not all-important; in which love still shares the stage but doesn't dominate it. For instance, in No Strings Attached Carroll sings:

"I just want money"
"And then some money"
"And loads of lovely love!"

But then, of course, Richard Rodgers, who wrote that lyric, is a gentleman of the old school who hasn't quite washed all the love out of his hair. Just the same, the very fact that money gets equal billing—to say nothing of top billing—with love shows which way the wind is blowing. Love to a songwriter is getting to be just an extra felicity—like the wind and the rain in your hair. Nice but not necessary.

Those two songs are what you might call love songs about money. But there are other songs about money—blues songs about money, for example. In fact, there's a song now doing quite nicely among the disc jockeys:

"You work each day half around the clock"
"You get your pay but you're still in hock."

"Your jeans are clean and there ain't a cent."
"The landlord comes but the rent is spent."

"The minimum wage, the minimum wage"
"You sweat and slave till you're sixty-five"

"You get the minimum pension if you're still alive."
"The rich get rich and the poor stay poor"

"You're sick sick sick and there ain't no cure."
"It's a darn good song."

Now the stock market has gone to hell, I keep asking myself, what is this going to do to the song-writers? I'm working on my own lament for that occasion.

"The money's gone"
"Every sou"
"There's nothing left but YOU!"
"Ugh!"

I have a lovely inner rhyme left over from the Affluent Age. "I have a sickening lust for the Guaranty Trust," and now that the great boom is over, what on earth will I do with it?

Winnipeg Survey

U.S. Television Shows Preferred to Canadian

BRANDON (CP)—Television viewers in Winnipeg showed a preference for programs made in the United States during a one-day survey conducted last Jan. 21. A spokesman for the Board of Broadcast Governors said here.

Carlyle Allison reported results of the survey in an address to the annual meeting of the Manitoba Bar Association which ended Sunday.

On that day the Canadian program Close-Up had 39,600 sets tuned in for the Metropolitan Winnipeg area. The Andy Griffith Show on privately-owned CJAY-TV had 62,100 sets tuned in and another 10,800 were tuned to a station in Pembina, N.D.

"These figures, you will agree, did not speak well for average tastes in Winnipeg," Mr. Allison said. He added that Close-Up, a CBC program on current affairs, is in his opin-

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Frank Sinatra is delighted with the change in the publicity he is getting in Europe. Nothing but praise for the veteran singer. The reason is easy to understand. Frankie is doing a great thing on this three-month trip around the world, singing for underprivileged children. When a star does something good, the reaction is good. I'll be really surprised if Sinatra ever again punches a reporter on the nose, or tries to smash a photographer's camera. I know Anthony Franciosa has learned this, and seems happier because of it. Ditto Jack Palance, who used to swing a fist rather easily.

Haya Harareet has landed in Rome for a movie. Haya declined a new three-year contract here with Metro—"I don't want to settle in Hollywood," she explained.

Hugh Griffith, who gives his usual rollicking performance in Lima, nearly hanged himself for real when the chair slipped and the noose tightened during his play, The Caucasian Chalk Circle, in London.

New twosome! Marie McDonald and Ed Callahan... And Joan Fontaine has been seeing French Consul Rene Millet in Hollywood. But in New York it is Charles Addams only.

Nick Adams describes The Hook as a "love story between men." Nothing strange, but there are times when men prefer the society of men. This story takes place in Korea. Three American soldiers capture an enemy soldier. They are supposed to kill him, and find they can't.

Johnny Mathis invited Barbara Gillohm, a model of Los Angeles, to be his guest when he appears at the Seattle world's fair early in July. Johnny is now here and again studying with his manager and her husband. For a while he had decided to live on his own.

Winning Contract

Most players are rightly cautious about bidding grand slams, but in match play it pays to be slightly more venturesome. In the recent World Championship match between North America and Great Britain, the players were rather too brave. The Americans hit the grand slam target with one attempt out of three, and the British with two out of five. Today's deal shows one of the failures, but the failure was in the play, not the bidding.

The decision whether to make a jump shift over partner's opening suit bid is often determined by the fit in partner's suit. North had no hesitation in bidding two spades over one heart, and would probably have made the same bid over one club. Over one diamond, however, he would have been content with one spade in view of the misfit. His second round jump to four hearts neatly indicated that he had a distributional force based on strong heart support.

Four spades and five clubs were control-showing cue-bids, and five no trump was the grand slam force, asking North to bid seven if he held two of the three top heart honors.

Try covering up the East-West hands and planning the play at seven hearts after a club lead. It is not easy to decide the best line.

In practice, South attempted to develop the spades. He cashed two top spades and the heart ace, then led a third spade. With neither spades nor hearts breaking evenly, this plan failed.

A rather better scheme is simply to ruff diamonds dummy. This fails only if West has five or more diamonds headed by the king, for in that case, East can overruff the third diamond. But South will land his contract in this way more than four times out of five. Which are pretty good odds.

Flagnapping Stunt Tops Trophy Hunt

PORTLAND (AP) — The Royal Canadian Navy's visit to the Portland Rose Festival turned into a prankish affair Saturday night.

After a water battle with the Portland Fire Department, sailors removed a large United States flag from the battleship Oregon memorial on the downtown waterfront and hoisted it on the mainmast of HMCS Cowichan.

It was taken as a mock trophy of war in the belief that it belonged to the firemen.

It didn't stay up long. As soon as officers on the Cowichan spotted it they had it removed, returned to the memorial and hoisted again with honors.

The flotilla's chief officer, Cmdr. Maurice Faulkner Oliver, telephoned his apologies to Mayor Terry Schunk, explaining it was all in fun and that no reflection was intended on the American flag.

The skipper of the Cowichan, Lt.-Cmdr. Richard Okros, said no disciplinary action is planned against the men who took the flag.

Early Sunday all four tires on a truck belonging to one of the Canadian vessels were deflated. It was parked along the waterfront near the ships.

Lidice Mourns Dead Of 1942 Nazi Terror

LIDICE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The women of Lidice shed tears of mourning Sunday, 20 years after their Czech village was savagely razed by the Nazis.

They were joined by more than 40,000 persons who came here in remembrance of the terror which wiped out every adult male in Lidice and many women and children.

"We can never forget," said

NICKEL IN WORLD MARKETS...JOBS FOR CANADIANS

How Canadian Nickel helped prevent an epidemic in British Honduras
Last fall, Hurricane Hattie ripped through the city of Belize in British Honduras. In its wake lay the danger of a major epidemic. And Canadian nickel helped prevent this grim possibility, just as it helps in the battle against disease all over the world. For nickel alloys were used in the processing of the drugs flown in to the stricken area. Why nickel alloys? Because they withstand corrosion; won't contaminate the product with metallic impurities; are easy to keep clean. Growth of nickel markets at home and abroad helps strengthen Canada's economy and helps provide more jobs for Canadians.

Couple Reunited

TORONTO (CP) — Belinda Lee Lum's five-month struggle to be with her husband ended happily Sunday night with the couple's reunion at Malton Airport.

The Lums' case, at one point brought up in Parliament, began more than three years ago when Mr. Lum, now 29, began corresponding with his wife-to-be in Hong Kong.

The Lums were married in Hong Kong Dec. 6. Mrs. Lum, 24, had passed immigration department examinations and only a landing permit for the bride's entry to Canada prevented their immediate departure.

In February the permit still hadn't arrived and Mr. Lum was forced to return to his Toronto position as a partner in a food catering firm.

WHAT'S THE 'INSTALMENT PLAN' WAY TO SAVE FOR A SPECIAL

VACATION?

A trip to Hawaii, a world cruise, or a college education—the best way to save for any of your long-range dreams is with The Bank of Nova Scotia's Personal Security Program. PSP is an instalment plan savings program, and works like this: You select a goal (anywhere between $100 and $2,500) which you reach in fifty equal payments. As you save, you're life-insured for the full amount of your goal. When you reach your goal, you collect all you've saved, plus a cash bonus. You'll find Scotiabank's PSP the best way to make sure you achieve success with your savings plan, so you can have the things you really want. Ask for details on PSP at your nearest branch of The Bank of Nova Scotia.

Flushed With Triumph

Plumber, Save My Anaconda!

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—College student Mike Krieger wanted to help a friend's snake work up an appetite, so he put the seven-foot anaconda in a bathtub of warm water in his apartment Sunday.

As frequently happens when someone is in the tub, the phone rang.

Krieger, 20, returned to find the anaconda—which crushes its prey like the boa constrictor—disappearing down the toilet. He grabbed its tail and started pulling.

In the next apartment, Bob Tisworth, a graduate student, happened to look into his bathroom. The snake's head had appeared in his plumbing.

Unaware of dual interest, each man bent to the task of saving the snake. Mike and two friends tugged at the tail. Bob enlisted two fire department units, several policemen and a humane society worker in an effort to coax the snake out.

It took an hour and a half—while the snake waited wearily—for the two factions to learn they were at odds.

The men then broke the plumbing and retrieved the snake, by now perhaps with an appetite but certainly with little stomach for further such adventures.

Lindy's Luck Recalled

WENTHAMPTON BEACH, N.Y. (AP) —The man who piloted the first trans-Atlantic passenger flight, Clarence Chamberlain, 68, got together with his passenger for the first time in 34 years Sunday. And one of the things they hashed over was how they just missed beating Charles A. Lindbergh.

"We were ready before Lindbergh but because of the weather we didn't go and Lindbergh did," said Charles Levine, 63, the passenger in the single-engine Wright-Bellanca monoplane that spanned the Atlantic June 4-5, 1927.

Lindbergh's historic solo hop from New York to Paris was on May 20-21 of that year.

Suicide Bid Charged By Police

A 23-year-old man charged with attempted suicide was remanded one day without plea when he appeared in city magistrate's court yesterday.

Prosecutor Angus Smith requested the remand in order to have Frank L. Hartshorne, who listed his address as 1125 Laurel, examined by a doctor.

Hartshorne was taken into custody Saturday evening after passersby saw a young man smash up his car then drive it headlong into a power pole.

Tough Yegg Cracks Resisting City Safe

A stubborn safe yielded loot estimated at $1,860 to a persevering yegg who used an arsenal of safecracking tools in a raid on a city feed wholesaler yesterday.

A total of $832 in cash and $1,028 in cheques were stolen from the safe of Clark & Cordick, 2303 Douglas.

RAID AFTER FIVE

Police reported the raid occurred after 3 p.m. Sunday. An official of the company who had visited the office at that time reported the safe intact when he left.

A small charge of Forcible was used in an attempt to open the safe after the dial had been knocked off with a sledge hammer.

Grits' Goal —170

FREDERICTON (CP) — The Liberals will win from 140 to 170 seats June 18, leader Lester Pearson said Monday.

But he said all hands have to buckle down to work even harder to ensure that margin of victory.

FINAL WEEK

He spoke to about 75 persons here in a quick airport visit en route to Montreal for a night rally. He had arrived at Saint John, N.B., from Quebec to start the last week's campaign.

The largest crowd of the day was about 800 in Saint John where Mr. Pearson dwelt heavily on Atlantic area issues in his talk from the top of a bandstand.

Mr. Pearson said he believes a Liberal government could do better in curbing unemployment which ran at an average 11.2 per cent for the Atlantic provinces during the last five years.

Her Shot In Dark Killed Son

SARONNO, Italy (AP) — Widow Domenica Zandrioli took a rifle and hid behind the chicken pen last night to try to catch thieves who suspected of stealing her poultry.

A little after midnight she was startled to see figures appear before her in the darkness. She fired and killed her eldest son, Nils, 15, who had come to take a turn on watch as his mother could rest.

Laos Coalition

Happy Princes End Stalemate

KHANG KHAY (AP) — The three feuding princes of Laos Monday finally put together a coalition cabinet intended to bring peace and neutrality to the little jungle kingdom. All looked pleased at the end of six months of wrangling over the cabinet's makeup.

No Charges Against Parents

TORONTO (CP) — The Children's Aid Society announced today no charges will be brought against parents whose children were found at a dilapidated nursery in downtown Toronto.

Police and health officials raided the nursery Thursday after reports that a "baby farm" was being operated there. They found 16 children huddled in a car outside, and said seven more were driven away.

The officials said charges might still be laid against others involved in the unlicensed nursery.

Wily Woofer Defeats Escape-Proof Prison

KITCHENER (CP) — After his third escape from a previously "break proof" Humane Society shelter here, Husky a three-year-old German shepherd "police dog" with a highly-colored past, has won his wordless battle.

The canine Houdini first escaped from the shelter Friday night, and fled for the eighth time back to the home of his despairing owner, Mrs. John MacIntyre. Husky lifted a heavy pen gate with his head and used his teeth to open a door and a window.

Saturday, he escaped again a few hours after the shelter had recovered him from Mrs. MacIntyre's home. His distraught owner found him waiting for her on the church lawn Sunday and, sagging under this last display of the dog's affection, agreed to keep him.

Husky built up a reputation for hijinks after Mrs. MacIntyre decided to give him away because she could not keep the rebel off her heels. With fierce determination to follow his mistress, Husky opened or broke windows, snapped chains and slipped collars.

She gave him away twice—once to a local family and once to a farm family near Fernus, more than 40 miles away. But the wily woofer returned six times from the first home and again from Fernus.

His last escape, from the Humane Society shelter, was accomplished by climbing an eight-foot fence topped by another two feet of guard wire.

Weird, Wild Motorcade For John D

MONTREAL (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker was paraded through the streets of Montreal Monday in a weird and wild motorcade that ended up in a public picnic of more than 3,000 youngsters. (See also Page 5.)

The 33-mile trip took him through six ridings on the island, skittered several others, roused public interest in his night election rally—and also tied up traffic.

OLD DISTRICT

The motorcade wound through the old tenement district of the metropolis, through narrow streets, around corners, sometimes twisting so much that the tail seemed to be passing the head.

Mr. Diefenbaker went from a Roman Catholic home for the elderly to a Jewish school for the young, then to a Ukrainian hall for a multiracial reception and finally to the children's picnic at abandoned Delormier baseball park.

Sometimes with, sometimes without police escort, the motorcade made its own noise—a steady bellow of horns.

It was an ethnic day—a campaign salute to the multitude of nationalities that make up Canada.

Snap Election Denied in U.K.

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's next national election is expected to be timed at the earliest 18 months from now regardless of whether or not the government has negotiated entry into the European Common Market, reliable sources said Monday.

The sources discounted recurrent speculative reports that the Common Market issue might cause Prime Minister Macmillan to call a snap election within the next nine months.

One such report suggested that if British ministers rejected the final terms offered by the six Common Market countries, Macmillan might appeal to the country on the proposition "We put the Common-wealth first."

The trend of thinking in political circles is that a failure of the British negotiations with the Common Market would be less likely than a success to prompt an early election.

WANT ENDORSEMENT

If the negotiations succeed, the government undoubtedly will be anxious at some point to receive the endorsement of the electorate for possibly the most historic and far-reaching decision a modern British administration has had to take.

But no mandate is necessary from the country if the outcome is negative.

STOCK DEPRESSED

Politicians point out that currently the government's stock with voters—reflected in a long run of parliamentary by-elections—is markedly depressed.

The small but resurgent Liberal party is especially benefiting from this phase.

Offensive Launched On Terror

B.C. government officials yesterday launched a counter-offensive aimed at stopping further Sons of Freedom terrorism in the strife-torn Kootenays.

Attorney-General Bonner renewed his request to Defence Minister Harkness for the stationing of troops in the area for "psychological" reasons.

POLICE REINFORCED
He ordered an undisclosed number of RCMP reinforcements to the Interior B.C. region rocked by a series of house burnings and nude parades.

And Welfare Minister Black, on the scene, said Doukhobors not on social assistance, who burned their homes during the weekend, can't expect to receive it if they apply.

He also said Freedomites

Scores On Trial

GRAND FORKS, B.C. (CP)

Thirteen Sons of Freedom Doukhobor women, charged with arson in connection with the burning of the home of Orthodox Doukhobor leader John Verigin, were committed to trial at a preliminary hearing Monday.

The women were arrested after the home of the Verigin was set afire in this West Kootenay community Sunday.

ENTERED HOME

Court was told the women entered the Verigin home Sunday while babysitter Louise Kinakin was caring for the Verigin children. The rest of the family was attending a prayer meeting.

Mrs. Verigin returned home shortly after the flames broke out and had to push her way past 13 nude women to telephone for help.

GRANTED ATTY

In New Westminster the Sons' spiritual leader Stefan Sorokin was granted a stay of proceedings Monday as 70 of his fraternal council and others appeared for preliminary hearings on charges of conspiring to intimidate the governments of Canada and British Columbia.

The hearing, expected to last six weeks or longer, will likely have few equals in complexity in Canadian legal history.

Four-Death Crash Accidental

DUNCAN—Verdict of accidental death, with no blame attached to anyone and no jury recommendations, was returned here last night at an inquest into the death of four people in one car April 27 on the Trans-Canada Highway south of here.

Vernon Harford and his wife Alyce, of Duncan, and their guests Mr. and Mrs. Paul Greenwood of Edmonton, died almost instantly of chest and head injuries.

Truck driver Philip Burnett, of Victoria, who suffered back injuries and a broken leg, could remember nothing of the actual crash.

Money, Money Everywhere

WEST ALLIS, Wis. (UPI)—Mrs. Thomas Burke, who said she made all that money raising rabbits, yesterday laid claim to $7,000 found over the weekend at an expressway construction site.

What's more, she said there was another $8,000 or $9,000 still buried in the same area.

years until they were forcibly evicted last year to make way for the expressway. They raised rabbits and a few chickens, sold them and carefully hid their profits in glass jars buried on the property.

When notified they would be evicted, Mrs. Burke and her two sons looked for the hiding places but couldn't find them, she said. The first $700 was found Friday night by Mrs. Stephen Stano, who noticed glass scattered about the newly graded area.

Police found the other $7,000 Saturday and posted guards to prevent amateur treasure hunters from moving in.

Saanich Hall Row

Merger Vote Protest Fails

By IAN STREET

Saanich council decided to hold a December vote on a proposal to build a new municipal hall at Swan Lake—overriding some strong objections that this would really be another vote on amalgamation.

Council also defeated a proposal by Reeve Stanley Murphy that it join immediately with Victoria in a study of amalgamation. The vote was 43.

SPIRITED DEBATE

The municipal hall move, recommended by the finance committee, was approved by a 43 vote after a spirited debate which grew heated as charges and counter-charges were hurled on the subject of amalgamation.

Reeve Stanley Murphy said the vote would be "completely premature" and he was supported by Coun. Robert Chard and Coun. Hugh Curtis.

'PEOPLE MISLED'

Finance chairman, Coun. Joseph Casey, supporting the committee's recommendation, argued the people were being misled when $50,000 was put in the current budget towards the cost of a new hall.

"If amalgamation comes... this money will all be down the drain," said Coun. Casey. "We are being false when we take this $50,000 and remain in the present ramshackle building."

VERY HAPPY

Reeve Murphy asked: "Would this vote in December not be, in effect, asking the people to decide whether or not they are for or against amalgamation?"

"I would think you'd be very happy to have them decide that," retorted Coun. Casey. "But you can take it any way you like."

THIS NOVEL

Coun. Robert Ostler charged that opposition to the move came from members of council who "would be content to see us live in this hovel for as long as it takes to get amalgamation."

"We shouldn't hold up progress just because this question of amalgamation is at the back of the mind of voters," Coun. Gregory Cook said.

"This is necessity," said Coun. Harold Todd. "I'm certainly going to support a vote in December on the proposed new hall."

SINGLE GROUND

Fact that the present hall was "obviously inadequate" was beside the point, said Coun. Chard. He was content to rest his argument on a single ground—that the municipality wasn't yet in a position to know the route of the new Pat Bay Highway.

"If that argument was valid we'd have to move the new firehall and the proposed health and welfare building on Vernon Road," said Coun. Casey.

91-Year-Old Gypped, Chimney Crook Jailed

VANCOUVER (CP)—Walter George Daykin, 91, convicted of bilking a 91-year-old woman of $300 in a chimney-repair racket, was sentenced Monday to a year in jail. Mrs. Mabel Hamilton was charged $300 for work not done and Daykin was convicted of conspiring to defraud her.

Key Role Taken From U.S. Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shaking up a lagging military communications satellite program, the defence department Monday stripped the United States Army of the main development role and gave it to the air force.

The Army, which has been working on the Advent program for nearly two years, was left only the responsibility for the system's ground equipment while the air force develops the spacecraft.

BY 1964

A defence department spokesman said the action is expected to result in the beginning of an operational system by 1964, rather than 1966. The military system would function separately from the proposed worldwide civilian satellite communications system.

COMPELLING FACT

The spokesman refrained from criticizing the work of the Army, which has spent about $170,000,000 on the project so far. Another $100,000,000 has been sought for the coming year.

The compelling fact in the decision, he said, is that the 1,200-pound satellite now being developed in the Army program is taking too long to meet the Communists in jungle and back-alley wars.

Anti-Red Force For U.S.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Gen. Maxwell Taylor said today the U.S. plans to train a 37,000-man force of counter-guerrilla specialists in the coming year to check the Communist wave of "wars of liberation."

'GOVERNMENT STUDENTS'

ONLY ONE STEP

Speaking at commencement exercises at the University of Pittsburgh, Taylor said the 57,000-man buildup is only one of the steps the United States is taking to meet the Communists in jungle and back-alley wars.

Outsider Leads In Peruvian Poll

LIMA (Reuters) — President Fernando Belaunde Terry Monday night moved into the lead with about half of the 1,800,000 votes counted from Sunday's Peruvian national elections.

Latest returns gave Belaunde 307,328 votes with his main rival, Gen. Manuel Odría, 278,000 and 258,236 votes respectively.

TRICKY SITUATION

Unless one of the candidates gets more than a third of the votes, the election will be thrown into congress—a tricky situation which Peruvians fear might lead to a political crisis.

Sunday's election—from which the armed forces were barred—was widely praised Monday as the most peaceful and democratic in the country's history.

Reds Gain In Italy

ROME (AP) — Italy's dominant Christian Democrats lost some strength in local elections based on incomplete returns Monday.

As the Christian Democrats' strength slipped, their Democratic Socialist and republican coalition partners gained.

Squatter Forgot

Police found the other $7,000 Saturday and posted guards to prevent amateur treasure hunters from moving in.

Yesterday Mrs. Burke, wearing a tattered coat held together by safety pins, asked authorities to surrender the money. The authorities withheld judgment.

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Flesch

When you were at school, you had to read your way through the poems printed in your anthology; chances are most of them left you utterly cold.

But if you're like most people, you never bothered to go back and check whether you were just too young to understand those poems, or whether it's possible that the famous great poets of English literature actually wrote bad verse.

Now there's a new paper back, The Stuffed Owl (Capricorn), where hundreds of poems by the supposedly great are mercilessly and hilariously exposed to view. After reading it, it's hard to cling to the notion that Poe, Wordsworth, Lord Byron etc. were always divinely inspired or that the stuff in your school readers really was as good as the English teacher told you.

'Thrill' Killings Linked to Four

LOS ANGELES — Police held four men on charges of robbery and linked them with several "thrill" killings during crime spree up and down the west coast.

"They are the most cold blooded group I've ever run across," said Lt. George Woolley of the homicide division. Booked on robbery charges were Avery Matthews, 18, Jack Blumie, 19, Ronald Polk, 23, and William Gregg, 22.

Kidnap and murder charges will be filed against them soon, said Woolley.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Tony Campisano, 11, is a double hero to his mother. The boy pushed Mrs. Joan Campisano off a boat into the Rough River here to douse flames which enveloped her, then he dived into the water to save her from drowning.

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court refused to review the conviction of Dave Beck, former Teamsters' union president, on charges of filing false federal tax returns for the union for 1950 and 1952.

ELKADER, Iowa — Henry Wolf, 78, and his wife, 77, invited all residents of Elkader to attend their 35th wedding anniversary celebration. A few hours before the celebration was to begin Mrs. Wolf died of a heart attack.

NEW YORK — Police said they questioned but took no action against a man who told a woman acquaintance that he was angry enough to kill President Kennedy.

COLOMBO — Execution of Buddhist monk Taldawa Noma-rana, who killed Prime Minister Bandaranaike of Ceylon in 1959, has been delayed until July.

who were receiving assistance will have their records checked "with a fine tooth comb."

Mr. Bonner sent this telegram to Mr. Harkness:

"Re Sons of Freedom, West Kootenays, respectfully request your reconsideration my earlier submission regarding psychological desirability to exercise self-sufficient company Infantry vicinity Nelson-Trail. Aid to civil power not the immediate question. Presence of military as suggested will prevent the question arising."

REQUEST REJECTED

Mr. Harkness turned down Mr. Bonner's request when it was first made some months ago after a series of Sons of Freedom bombings in the Kootenays.

He said last night: "Mr. Bonner knows all he has to do is sign the necessary requisition under the National Defence Act and submit it to the area military commander."

"BONNER KNOWS"

And Justice Minister Fulton said in Kamloops:

"Mr. Bonner knows... that if such a request is made, it will be dealt with immediately."

He said "the law is clear, and the federal government does not have the power to supply troops in a situation such as this unless the request is made in accordance with the terms of the National Defence Act."

FORMAL REQUEST

Mr. Fulton said parliament has "carefully restricted" the authority of the federal government to use troops in the case of civil disturbances.

"They can only be used if formally requested by the province to intervene in aid of the civil power."

B.C. feels the very presence of the army troops in the area will discourage further outbreaks of violence. Ostensibly they would be there for training.

Social assistance payments range from $103.80 for a mother and child to $190.20 for a mother with five children.

"This stupidity has to stop," Mr. Black said. "We cannot ask the taxpayers to pay this kind of bill any longer."

NO SHELTER

From 150 to 175 children have been left without proper shelter after three days of fierce and systematic incendiary. The mothers have admitted telling their children burning and nudism are quite proper.

The children have moved in with neighbors in some cases, while others are sleeping in sheds, root houses and tents.

PARIS — Yves Klein, whose "action painting" technique of smearing nude models and rolling them on canvas outraged many a critic, died at 34.

ANTIBES, France — The honeymoon yacht of Don Juan and Princess Sophie helped rescue six persons from a burning Belgian yacht.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — Andrew Bonama, 24, father of seven children, won his bachelor of science degree at the University of Rochester the hard way: After 15 years of night school.

ORILLIA, Ont. — Somebody, somewhere, must be in the market for secondhand wind-downs from cars. Del Hanes-gan of Oshawa, visiting friends here, returned to his car parked in a local park to find two windows had been stolen.

Your Good Health

Diets Never Change Arthritic Conditions

By JOSEPH MOJNER, MD

Dear Dr. MoJner: You haven't given any diet for arthritis.—J.W.

No, because, despite certain quacks, I don't think diet has anything to do with arthritis in its varied forms with these three qualifications:

1. A balanced diet helps, just as in almost any condition of health or illness.
2. If the patient is overweight, a reducing diet is decidedly helpful because it takes excess weight off the painful joints.
3. A low-purine diet is sometimes recommended for patients with gout, although currently there is less belief in its importance.

Dear Dr. MoJner: Recently I have noticed a peculiar odor in the urine. Is this serious, or an indication of disease? My health is excellent.—M.K.

Various foods can cause an odor—aspargus is notable. Odor can be present, too, because of infection but then there should be other symptoms: Frequency, burning, or fever. Cystocele in women and prostate enlargement in men also can cause some stagnation and hence odor. A simple urine test will reveal whether infection exists.

Dear Dr. MoJner: I have occasionally noted a milky color in my urine, but when I have a medical checkup the urine specimen has always been all right.—A.C.

Such cloudiness can result from eating certain fruits (the cloudiness is from phosphate crystals which form), or from mucus or pus. Either of the latter, however, would have been shown in urine tests.

'Truants' Return

NELSON (CPI) — Sons of Freedom Doukhobor children, kept away from school in large number Friday after many of their parents burned their homes, were back in school Monday.

Truant officers had warned the Sons there would be a roundup if the children failed to turn up today.

Skindiver Dies Despite Efforts

VANCOUVER (CPI) — An hour of artificial respiration failed to revive skindiver Blaine Brooke, 14, Sunday when he was found floating lifelessly in the water at Saltery Bay, 23 miles south of Powell River.

Crew members on a ferry boat docking at the bay spotted the youth, pulled him from the water and applied artificial respiration for an hour before he was pronounced dead.

Rain Blamed For Crashes On Highways

NANAIMO—Twin brother of a Ladysmith man killed Saturday in a highway crash was in fair condition yesterday at Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria.

Killed was William Nummy, 62. In hospital is his brother Thomas, his companion in the car at the time of the crash three miles north of Nanaimo.

RAIN BLAMED

Heavy rain which made the highway greasy is blamed for this and other accidents in the area Saturday night.

The Nummy car, police said, was in collision with a vehicle driven by Rev. D. B. Houghton, Ladysmith minister. Seconds later the wrecked car with hit by a third, occupied by Jack Saywell, Liberal candidate in the coming election, and his son, Prof. William G. Saywell, University of Toronto.

LOVE DRIVER KILLED

Mr. Houghton was taken, unconscious, to Ladysmith General Hospital but later was reported in satisfactory condition. Mr. Saywell injured his ankle and knee.

A second crash, on the Cedar Road near Nanaimo River bridge, took the life of George Francis Butt, 29, of Nanaimo, when the car in which he rode alone left the road and struck a stump.

Around The Island

looked out her window to find the family car on fire not six feet from the house.

Mrs. Reynolds roused her husband and family, but they could not move the car or extinguish the flames.

Firemen from Fulford and Ganges were on the scene in 10 minutes, and kept the fire from the house itself. The car was a total loss.

This, Mrs. Reynolds said, was the second time the same thing had happened to them—and neither the fire nor the horn blowing have been completely explained.

DUNCAN—Last meeting this season of the Duncan and District Association for Retarded Children will be held tonight at 8 p.m. at the Arcadian School.

CAMPBELL RIVER—Alexander Ross, 52, well-known resident and merchant here, collapsed and died suddenly at his home yesterday morning.

NANAIMO—Tom Bertram of Ladysmith, past deputy governor of Lions International, installed Sid Clark as president and Fred Saunders as immediate past president of Nanaimo Lions here Saturday.

Secretary is Lloyd Bertram and treasurer Harold Saunders; first, second and third vice-presidents are Jack Hackwood, John Little and Ken Medland. Lion tamer is Jack Campbell and Steve Lee, tall twister. Neil Black and Bob Rigler are one year directors.

DUNCAN—Spontaneous combustion is believed responsible for an early Sunday morning fire which started in a workshop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Les Blasko, and damaged valuable tools and building material.

CAMPBELL RIVER—Sea Cadets here will close their season's activities Thursday with a sunset ceremony at 8:15 p.m. at the Cenotaph. Gunner Officer Terry Temple will be

Victorians Pay Fines In Duncan

DUNCAN—Operating an overloaded truck on the Trans-Canada Highway cost Ideal Fuel Co. of Victoria $50 in police court yesterday.

Two Victoria youths, William H. Pepper and B. F. Ensign, were fined $15 each for possession of liquor. A third youth, from Alberni, Arthur Hess, received the same fine for the same offence.

Victoria logger Leslie Longland was fined $35 for speeding.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian Scottish cadet corps of Port Alberni carried home the most honors from the annual army cadets sports day Sunday.

They won the 440-yard relay, the light machine-gun hike and the senior 100-yard dash, with Cadet Levenhorst taking the latter.

Mortgage Burned In Nanaimo Ceremony

NANAIMO—The 74th anniversary of the Salvation Army in Nanaimo was celebrated Saturday with the cutting of an anniversary cake and the burning of the mortgage against the Citadel.

In only seven years the army has succeeded in paying off not only the $66,000 cost of the Citadel, but also a sum of $13,027, cost of officer's quarters.

Brigadier Leslie Pindred, divisional Army commander for B.C., officiated at the mortgage burning ceremony and extended the thanks of the Army to Mayor Maffeo for the city's support.

The Salvation Army advisory board came in for special mention, with Dr. R. E. Forrester, the chairman, being awarded a life membership, one of the highest honors the Army can bestow.

ANONYMOUS GIFTS—Captain Charles Smith announced a gift of $1,000 from an anonymous donor toward the cost of a proposed hostel. The same man had previously contributed $1,000 toward the Citadel.

The cake-cutting ceremony was performed by Mrs. Norman Bennett, president of the Local Council of Women, representing all the women's clubs which have helped the Army.

'Will to Live' Kept Him Going

CAMPBELL RIVER—Only "a great will to live" kept the only survivor of a north coast fishboat tragedy alive overnight Friday.

TWO LOST

Norman Watt, 49, of Port Moody, is recovering in hospital at Port Hardy from exposure and foot injuries.

Lost in the mishap, caused when a following wave hit their boat the wrong way, were Norman Victor Jeffrey, 52, of Campbell River, and Fred Leary, 49, the skipper, from Ladner.

LONG WALK

Mr. Watt clung for hours to the overturned boat after his companions had died, then swam a half-mile to shore and walked 20 miles in his stocking feet along the coast to Port Hardy.

"I was tired and cold," he said later in hospital, "but I was afraid that if I lay down to rest I would die. A great will to live helped me get to shore, then walk along the beach."

BODIES RECOVERED

Mr. Watt had caught a ride on the boat, the Porcher 73, on the first leg of a trip home to see his family.

The vessel was later spotted on the shore by a B.C. Air-

Track Meet Set at Sooke

SOOKE—Elementary schools of Sooke, Jordan River and Saseenos will compete in a track meet Friday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the grounds of Sooke Elementary School.

Legion cups will be presented to divisional winners. At the close of the meet winners of all races in the 9-to-13-year brackets, both girls and boys, will compete for the Otter Point Trophy. This is a handicap event, with prizes to the top girl and top boy.

DUNCAN—Davis S. Jordan of Duncan pleaded guilty to speeding near Cassidy and was fined $35 in police court Monday.

Throwing an empty pop bottle out of his car cost Larry Ketch $15. He told court his wife had thrown the bottle.

G. R. Lee of Duncan was fined a total of $25 for using another person's driver's licence and operating a motor vehicle without a licence.

Skipper Maps Out Nature—Has Fun

By ERITH M. SMITH

Naturalist Freeman King thinks the provincial government has something going very well for it—and doesn't realize the fact.

Skipper, as Mr. King is known to thousands, has probably introduced more people, plants, birds and bugs to each other than anyone who ever lived hereabouts.

His interests led him to take a key part in establishment of the Thomas S. Francis nature park, on the fringe of Thetis park.

Within the park naturalists of Greater Victoria have built a "nature house" in which the park's plant life is displayed.

Because of his activity in the project, Mr. King was appointed park naturalist; the province also named him fire warden. Then they had another happy thought, and appointed him park naturalist at nearby Goldstream Park.

"But what do I do?" Mr. King wanted to know.

"We're not sure. It's something new—you map it out," was the reply.

He is still mapping—and having a wonderful time.

Since the Francis park nature house opened May 1, Mr. King reports with pleased surprise, 500 visitors have bent over its displays and listened to the explanations offered by staff on duty.

"Incidentally," Mr. King points out, "these include many of our junior members, 14 years old and up."

He's particularly happy about the number of visitors because the park hasn't been widely advertised, and is not too easy to find.

Still, the word is getting out, and Mr. King and his staff are keeping the scene shifting so as to be up to date.

Every week the displays of plant life are changed, to keep pace with the changing season. This will continue through the full season.

Meanwhile, Mr. King has been making himself known to visitors at Goldstream—both campers and picnickers. For their guidance he has identified by signs many of the trees and plants of the area.

One unrelated fact Skipper finds especially pleasing.

With one accord, visitors from south of the border and from Eastern Canada exclaim over the neatness of B.C. highways and campsites.

They've never, they tell him, seen anything like it. As one California visitor said: "Down our way, you should see the beer cans!"

WILLIAM ELFORD... away it goes!

Ferry Records Smashed As Tourist Tide Mounts

Ferry traffic from the U.S. to southern Vancouver Island this year has smashed all previous records and indications point to a boom year for tourists.

In May the Washington State Ferries service between Sidney and Anacortes showed a 100 per cent increase over the same period in 1961.

Both Black Ball Transport Inc., which operates the Victoria-Port Angeles run, and CP Steamships' Victoria-Seattle service report "substantial increases" over normal years.

Companies agreed the Seattle fair had sparked the increase. C. E. Blaney, Jr., local agent for WSF, said the Sidney-Anacortes ferry last month carried a total 1,981 cars with 6,941 passengers from the U.S. to Sidney.

During the same period last year there were 988 cars with 3,910 passengers.

Sixty per cent of the increase is due to California visitors, said Mr. Blaney.

FULL LOADS
Four daily round trips began on the run last week and will continue through Sept. 4. Most ferries already carry full loads.

A CPR spokesman said yesterday's sailing of the Princess Marguerite from Seattle to Victoria and return carried "more than 1,900" passengers. Number of passengers is staying "pretty consistently around 1,800." The ship is certified to carry 2,000.

NEW CAPACITY

Pat Frumento, local manager of Black Ball Transport, which operates the ferry Coho on a four roundtrip daily summer schedule, said increased business keeps the vessel at near capacity.

He gave much credit to the new B.C. House in San Francisco and to Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

'Army' Drive Halfway To Target

The $30,000 Salvation Army fund drive has topped the halfway mark, campaign chairman Courtney Haddock said yesterday.

Though the drive started three weeks late, he said it was three weeks ahead of schedule in contributions.

Spirited Topic Occupies 30 Delegates

Delegates from across Canada gathered at the Empress Hotel yesterday with one thing uppermost in their minds—booze!

The 30 delegates are attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Provincial Liquor Commissioners and represent all Canadian provinces with the exception of Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island.

Secretary Col. C. W. Woodrow from Toronto said the working meetings—and there will be a series—will be closed. A statement will be issued later.

Hillcrest Company Pays Off 88 Men

DUNCAN — The long free bus dispute between Hillcrest Lumber Co. and the IWA's local 1480 came to an apparent end yesterday—without settlement.

It closed with the paying-off of 88 loggers.

Last Saturday the company asked the men involved, for the final time, to return to work yesterday.

Company president Hector Stone said yesterday the firm had given the loggers sufficient warning. No other company, he added, would have shown so much patience or waited so long.

"Even now," he stated, "the company will consider rehiring most of the loggers if they wish to come back. We want to log."

Local president Weldon Juvonville declined comment on the new development.

The dispute arose Jan. 2 when free transportation was withdrawn and loggers in Duncan and Lake Cowichan refused to provide their own.

Two provincial government recommendations for a temporary settlement were rejected as the workers demanded full restoration of the bus service.

The mill operation at Mesachie Lake will close down this Friday afternoon, said Mr. Stone.

Meanwhile, results of the controversial repeated election for Local 1480 officers will be available Wednesday or Thursday.

Duncan Farmers Told:

Take Tax Trouble to Probe

DUNCAN — Local farmers, trying for 10 years to have their land exempted from school tax, have been advised a provincial or federal commission on agriculture might provide their solution.

The suggestion came in a letter from B.C. Opposition leader Robert Strachan, MLA for Cowichan-Newcastle, to W. R. Barker, secretary of the Cowichan Agricultural Society.

The farmers had been inquiring about a royal commission, the government does not need a royal commission.

Mr. Strachan said, "So far no comprehensive overall research effort has been carried out on agriculture as such, and it is my feeling that anything less than that would be inadequate and unsatisfactory."

He urged that the society present a resolution to that effect to the next B.C. Federation of Agriculture.

Civil Action On Smoke?

Possibility of a civil action for damages caused by fly ash fallout loomed large last night, despite city hall assurances that plants which break the city's smoke bylaw will be prosecuted immediately.

"Seeing is believing; we have had similar assurances before," said L. E. Todd, managing director of the Windsor Motor Court and Motel.

MAIN CONCERN
"We have consulted our legal counsel and our plans depend on what the city does in the near future and the results achieved."

"My main concern is to get some action—to get this ridiculous situation cleaned up."

"We don't want to hurt anyone but we are being hurt, ourselves, and we have to protect our investment."

WATCHING BRIEF

"Our solicitor is keeping a watching brief on this situation."

"We have been watching the situation for more than a year, now."

"They were given seven months to meet the requirements of the bylaw when it was adopted and in that time we saw no material improvements."

"Today, the wind swung over here once and the pool was covered with a beautiful layer of black ash in minutes."

Mr. Todd was one of several motel operators who blasted city hall over the smoke situation last week.

Another was Warren Fonteyne, manager of the Royal Victorian Motor Hotel.

"I do not feel happy with the situation now," he commented. "The situation hasn't improved in the past two days and we don't expect it will for a while."

The time was a few minutes before 4 a.m.

Thus did William Elford, now 72 years old, begin a habit which was to stay with him throughout his life.

Magistrate Beevor-Potts rejected Jones' plea for return of the children from the custody of welfare authorities, as the youngest is still in hospital and cannot be moved, and there has not yet been opportunity for a complete investigation, required by Mr. Beevor-Potts.

Jones was sentenced to one year's suspended sentence and he and his wife were both interdicted in regard to all liquor for one year.

The three children had been found in the car parked in the middle of a downtown street late Friday, with the mother missing. Jones in an intoxicated condition and the door open. The youngest child, aged six months, was on the front seat crying, and with blood around the mouth.

The other two were lying amid broken beer bottles on the floor of the car with their feet projecting from the open door.

City Police On Alert For Hotrods

City police said yesterday special patrols are being used on Shelbourne Street following complaints from residents that hotrod drivers were using the street as a "dragstrip."

Deputy Chief Harry Mercer said "special attention" followed a petition to the city signed by 129 residents living along Shelbourne from Hillside to Haultain.

A city dockworker, struck by a falling 50-gallon fuel drum while unloading a scow, is reported to be in fairly good condition in St. Joseph's Hospital.

DRUM SLIPPED
Louis Schmelz, 3246 Parker Avenue, received chest and back injuries and severe face lacerations when the 500-pound drum slipped out of a sling while it was being unloaded by a crane.

The drum fell about 30 feet and struck Mr. Schmelz in the back, hurling him face first into a donkey engine he was operating.

He is employed by Pacific Piledriving Co. Ltd., 401 Yates. The accident occurred at the wharf behind the company's offices.

Relaxing in his living room at 1136 Elford yesterday, he offered this succinct advice to parents who feel they have a delinquency problem in the house.

"Get the youngster out of delivering papers, that'll keep him out of mischief!"

Grits' Goal -170

FREDERICTON (CP) — The Liberals will win from 140 to 170 seats June 18, leader Lester Pearson said Monday.

But he said all hands have to buckle down to work even harder to ensure that margin of victory.

FINAL WEEK

He spoke to about 75 persons here in a quick airport visit en route to Moncton for a night rally. He had arrived at Saint John, N.B., from Quebec to start the last week's campaigning.

The largest crowd of the day was about 800 in Saint John where Mr. Pearson dwelt heavily on Atlantic area issues in his talk from the top of a bandstand.

Mr. Pearson said he believes a Liberal government could do better in curbing unemployment which ran at an average 11.2 per cent for the Atlantic provinces during the last five years.

Her Shot In Dark Killed Son

SARONNO, Italy (AP) — Widow Domenica Zandri took a rifle and hid behind the chicken pen last night to try to catch thieves she suspected of stealing her poultry.

A little after midnight she was startled to see a figure appear before her in the darkness. She fired and killed her eldest son, Silvano, 18, who had come to take a turn on watch so his mother could rest.

Laos Coalition

Happy Princes End Stalemate

KHANG KHAY (AP) — The three feuding princes of Laos Monday finally put together a coalition cabinet intended to bring peace and neutrality to the little jungle kingdom. All looked pleased at the end of six months of wrangling over the cabinet's makeup.

No Charges Against Parents

TORONTO (CP) — The Children's Aid Society announced yesterday no charges will be brought against parents whose children were found at a dilapidated nursery in downtown Toronto.

Police and health officials raided the nursery Thursday after reports that a "baby farm" was being operated there. They found 18 children housed in a car outside, and said seven more were driven away.

The officials said charges might still be laid against others involved in the unlicensed nursery.

Wily Woofer Defeats Escape-Proof Prison

The canine Houdini first escaped from the shelter Friday night, and fled for the eighth time back to the home of his despairing owner, Mrs. John MacIntyre. Husky lifted a heavy pen gate with his head and used his teeth to open a door and a window.

Saturday, he escaped again a few hours after the shelter had recovered him from Mrs. MacIntyre's home. His distraught owner found him waiting for her on the church lawn Sunday and, sagging under this last display of the dog's affection, agreed to keep him.

Husky built up a reputation for hijinks after Mrs. MacIntyre decided to give him away because she could not keep the rebel off her heels. With fierce determination to follow his mistress, Husky opened or broke windows, snapped chains and slipped collars.

She gave him away twice—once to a local family and once to a farm family near Fergus, more than 40 miles away. But the wily woofer returned six times from the first home and again from Fergus.

His last escape, from the Humane Society shelter, was accomplished by climbing an eight-foot fence topped by another two feet of guard wire.

Weird, Wild Motorcade For John D

MONTREAL (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker was paraded through the streets of Montreal Monday in a weird and wild motorcade that ended up in a public picnic of more than 5,000 youngsters. (See also Page 3.)

The 33-mile trip took him through six ridings on the island, sidetracked several others, roused public interest in his night election rally—and also tied up traffic.

OLD DISTRICT

The motorcade wound through the old tenement district of the metropolis, through narrow streets, around corners, sometimes twisting so much that the tail seemed to be passing the head.

Mr. Diefenbaker went from a Roman Catholic home for the elderly to a Jewish school for the young, then to a Ukrainian hall for a multiracial reception and finally to the children's picnic at abandoned Delormier baseball park.

Sometimes with, sometimes without police escort, the motorcade made its own noise—a steady bellow of horns.

It was an ethnic day—a campaign salute to the multitude of nationalities that make up Canada.

Offensive Launched On Terror

B.C. government officials yesterday launched a counter-offensive aimed at stopping further Sons of Freedom terrorism in the strife-torn Kootenays.

Attorney-General Bonner renewed his request to Defence Minister Harkness for the stationing of troops in the area for "psychological" reasons.

POLICE REINFORCED

He ordered an undisclosed number of RCMP reinforcements to the Interior B.C. region rocked by a series of house burnings and nude parades.

And Welfare Minister Black, on the scene, said Doukhobors on social assistance, who burned their homes during the weekend, can't expect to receive it if they apply.

He also said Freedomites

Scores On Trial

GRAND FORKS, B.C. (CP) — Thirteen Sons of Freedom Doukhobor women, charged with arson in connection with the burning of the home of Orthodox Doukhobor leader John Verigin, were committed to trial at a preliminary hearing Monday.

The women were arrested after the home of the Verigin was set afire in this West Kootenay community Sunday.

ENTERED HOME

Court was told the women entered the Verigin home Sunday while babysitter Louise Kinakin was caring for the Verigin children. The rest of the family was attending a prayer meeting.

Mrs. Verigin returned home shortly after the flames broke out and had to push her way past 13 nude women to telephone for help.

GRANTED STAY

In New Westminster the Sons' spiritual leader Stefan Sorokin was granted a stay of proceedings Monday as 70 of his fraternal council and others appeared for preliminary hearings on charges of conspiring to intimidate the governments of Canada and British Columbia.

The hearing, expected to last six weeks or longer, will likely have few equals in complexity in Canadian legal history.

Luther's Ring Missing

NANKATO, Minn. (AP) — A silver German ring believed by its owners to be Martin Luther's wedding ring and valued priceless was stolen from St. Mark's Lutheran Church here sometime Sunday night.

The ring was taken from a cabinet in the office of the church's pastor, Rev. Martin Birkholz, by thieves who also opened a safe in the church. Birkholz said the ring was given to the church about four years ago by Mrs. Russell Fowler, an elderly woman of German descent who said it had been in the family for generations.

Trouble Maker

San Juan Island gift pig Rebecca faces 30 days' quarantine and then, if plans work out, a pen in Beacon Hill Park. Seven-pound pig kicked Karen Burton, 18, but marks on her face were due to horse's hoof a few days before. Presented to Victoria delegation Saturday, pig ran into trouble with Canadian customs at Sidney. —(Colonist photo.)

Saanich Hall Row

MERGER VOTE PROTEST FAILS

By IAN STREET

Saanich council decided to hold a December vote on a proposal to build a new municipal hall at Swan Lake—overriding some strong objections that this would really be another vote on amalgamation.

Council also defeated a proposal by Reeve Stanley Murphy that it join immediately with Victoria in a study of amalgamation. The vote was 4-3.

SPIRITED DEBATE

The municipal hall move, recommended by the finance committee, was approved by a 4-3 vote after a spirited debate which grew heated as charges and counter-charges were hurled on the subject of amalgamation.

Reeve Stanley Murphy said the vote would be "completely premature" and he was supported by Coun. Robert Chard and Coun. Hugh Curtis.

'PEOPLE MISLED'

Finance chairman, Coun. Joseph Casey, supporting the committee's recommendation, argued the people were being misled when $50,000 was put in the current budget towards the cost of a new hall.

"If amalgamation comes... this money will all be down the drain," said Coun. Casey. "We are being false when we take this $50,000 and remain in the present ramshackle building."

'VERY HAPPY'

Reeve Murphy asked: "Would this vote in December not be, in effect, asking the people to decide whether or not they are for or against amalgamation?"

"I would think you'd be very happy to have them decide that," retorted Coun. Casey. "But you can take it any way you like."

'THIS HOVEL'

Coun. Robert Ostler charged that opposition to the move came from members of council who "would be content to see us live in this hovel for as long as it takes to get amalgamation."

"We shouldn't hold up progress just because this question of amalgamation is at the back of the mind of voters," Coun. Gregory Cook said.

"This is necessary," said Coun. Harold Todd. "I'm certainly going to support a vote in December on the proposed new hall."

SINGLE GROUND

Fact that the present hall was "obviously inadequate" was beside the point, said Coun. Chard. He was content to rest his argument on a single ground—that the municipality wasn't yet in a position to know the route of the new Pat Bay Highway.

"If that argument was valid we'd have to move the new firehall and the proposed health and welfare building on Vernon Road," said Coun. Casey.

91-Year-Old Gypped, Chimney Crook Jailed

VANCOUVER (CP) — Walter George Daykin, 91, convicted of bilking a 91-year-old woman of $300 in a chimney-repair racket, was sentenced Monday to a year in jail. Mrs. Mabel Hamilton was charged $300 for work not done and Daykin was convicted of conspiring to defraud her.

Key Role Taken From U.S. Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shaking up a lagging military communications satellite program, the defence department Monday stripped the United States Army of the main development role and gave it to the air force.

The Army, which has been working on the Advent program for nearly two years, was left only the responsibility for the system's ground equipment while the air force develops the spacecraft.

BY 1964

A defence department spokesman said the action is expected to result in the beginnings of an operational system by 1964, rather than 1966. The military system would function separately from the proposed worldwide civilian satellite communications system.

COMPELLING FACT

The spokesman refrained from criticizing the work of the Army, which has spent about $170,000,000 on the project so far. Another $100,000,000 has been sought for the coming year.

The compelling fact in the decision, he said, is that the 1,300-pound satellite now contemplated in the Army program would be too heavy for the rockets now available.

Anti-Red Force For U.S.

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Gen. Maxwell Taylor said yesterday the U.S. plans to train a 37,000-man force of counter-guerrilla specialists in the coming year to check the Communist wave of "wars of liberation."

'GOVERNMENT STUDENTS' The retired army chief of staff, President Kennedy's top adviser on military matters, identified the specialists as "government students" whose training will include "significant blocks of instruction on counter-insurgency."

ONLY ONE STEP

Speaking at commencement exercises at the University of Pittsburgh, Taylor said the 37,000-man buildup is only one of the steps the United States is taking to meet the Communists in jungle and back-alley wars.

Outsider Leads In Peruvian Poll

LIMA (Reuters) — Presidential outsider Fernando Belaunde Terry Monday night moved into the lead with about half of the 1,800,000 votes counted from Sunday's Peruvian national elections.

Latest returns gave Belaunde 367,328 votes with his main rivals, Gen. Manuel Odría and Raul Haya de la Torre, 278,009 and 238,236 votes respectively.

TRICKY SITUATION

Unless one of the candidates gets more than a third of the votes, the election will be thrown into congress—a tricky situation which Peruvians fear might lead to a political crisis. Sunday's election—from which the armed forces were barred—was widely praised Monday as the most peaceful and democratic in the country's history.

The winner will rule this South American country for the next six years.

Reds Gain In Italy

ROME (AP) — Italy's dominant Christian Democrats lost some strength in local elections based on incomplete returns Monday.

As the Christian Democrats' strength slipped, their Democratic Socialist and republican coalition partners gained.

Money, Money Everywhere

WEST ALLIS, Wis. (UPI) — Mrs. Thomas Burke, who said she made all that money raising rabbits, yesterday laid claim to $7,700 found over the weekend at an expressway construction site.

What's more, she said there was another $8,000 or $9,000 still buried in the same area.

The Burke family lived as squatters on a farm near West Allis for 34 years until they were forcibly evicted last year to make way for the expressway. They raised rabbits and a few chickens, sold them and carefully hid their profits in glass jars buried on the property.

When notified they would be evicted, Mrs. Burke and her two sons looked for the hiding places but couldn't find them, she said. The first $700 was found Friday night by Mrs. Stephen Stano, who noticed bills scattered about the newly-graded area.

Police found the other $7,000 Saturday and posted guards to prevent amateur treasure hunters from moving in.

Yesterday Mrs. Burke, wearing a tattered coat held together by safety pins, asked authorities to surrender the money. The authorities withheld judgment.
